THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday, Jan. 26, 1922.

THE ARGENTINE CONFEDERATION has, it is said, 75,000,000 sheep.

Make all radical changes of food gradually. Too sudden changes often induce disease.

Wheat bran or mill feed can nearly always be used to good advantage in feeding growing pigs.

The prices for sheep have nearly doubled in the United States the past year. Good ewes are cheap now at from $4 to $6 apiece.

Give the stock that is being wintered over as good a variety of feed as possible. It will keep them in better health and secure a better growth at a less cost.

It is said that corral horses are less sensible to heat than horses of other colors, and that they have more endurance than others.

A gift horse to the stable, judiciously used on farm horses, is a good deal better than a horse doctor, and not so costly and uncertain.

About 1,000 horses are bought each year for the United States Army, the average price paid being about $184. They are mostly bought in Missouri.

Fresh laid eggs are always the healthiest. Stale eggs are often so light that they will float in water.

To carry on the poultry business successfully, constant personal supervision of the smallest details.

Eight sheep may be kept for every acre, a dairyman, as they will add but little to the expense, the sheep consuming many kinds of food that cattle reject.

Sheep are good property if properly managed. During the winter they must be well sheltered and made comfortable if the best growth of wool is made.

While pedigree is a good item with a good boy yet for breeding he must possess individual merit if the best results are secured. A combination of pedigree and quality will be more satisfactory.

"Happy in the man who has his quiver full of them,"—of bottles of Salivation Oil the greater cure on earth for pain. Price only 25 cents.

Mother's should never fail to keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup convenient in order to relieve their little ones of cough quickly and surely. 25 cents.

Two of the best watches ever made. John Huntington and his son, W. T. R. Huntington of Cleveland, own two of the best watches in the world.

They are duplicates, and were ordered by the senior Huntington in 1881, in Geneva, Switzerland. He agreed to pay $5,000 in gold for two watches that should combine every movement then known to the art of watchmaking.

A description of one answers for both. The case is of pure gold; the works number 400 pieces. On the large dial appear four smaller dials.

The one at the top shows by a diagram of the sun the changes of the moon, the frame being in lapis lazuli encased with gold stars. The next dial to the right shows the leap year, the tiny hand moving around circle once in four years, and an auxiliary hand shows each month.

On the dial at the bottom is a hand making the quarter seconds, and one showing the day of the month. At the left, on the fourth miniature dial, is a hand putting out the way of the week, and another the tide as it ebbs and flows. Around the large dial, besides the usual hour and minute hand, moves a second hand and an extra horse timer, so arranged that the distance between two horses at the finish is noticeably noted in quarter seconds. By pressing a button the past hour is struck on a deep toned bell, one of a chime, the quarters are a more silvery note, and a rapidly ticking companion gives the minutes. The watch is a stem-winder and one spring furnishes the motive power. Where there is friction the pivots are set in rubies.—New York Sun.

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

Last Friday evening the long deferred Gold Medal Prize Contest came off at Bristol Hill. Wind and weather conspired to make it a success, for it was the first sleighing of the season, and a very pleasant evening.

Notwithstanding there was much sickness in the neighborhood, and especially among the members of the society there was a good attendance.

It was the opinion of those present that it was by far the best sleighing ever heard of at one of these contests.

The medal was awarded to Miss Vols of Palmyra. Music was furnished by the Bristol Hill choir. A quartet consisting of Mrs. H. H. Parker and Misses Minnie Baldwin, Hattie Young and May Rugg, was especially well received, while a comic song by Messrs. Hastings, Silmon, Hodges and Roberts called out a hearty encore which was responded to by another of the same kind. After the contest an supper was served at the house of Mrs. H. H. Parker.

A "hard time" supper but an extra good one, as the well-filled audience agreed. The judges were Messrs. Snow and Connell of Fulton, and Mr. Havens of Vermonville. The receipts of the contest were $31.61.

There will be a Silver Medal Prize Contest in the Bristol Hill church, Feb. 28th. A lunch will be served at a very reasonable price, and something new in the way of an entertainment is promised.

Mrs. W. Hastings who has been sick some time is slowly recovering.

Miss Enola Fairchild of Dexter, was being visited by her aunt, Mrs. M. Satterlee.

Miss Myrtle Duell was the guest of Miss Millie Piper over Sunday.

Byron Gorton is the possessor of a new cutter and robe which he bought just in time to catch what little sleighing we had last week.

(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

In the Fulton Patriot of Jan. 10, in an article saying that the Palmyra correspondent of the FULTON TIMES said that G. D. Trimble had bought the Blake cheese factory in Granby, the correspondent fails to differ with the person who had that article put in the Patriot, for the correspondent knew that the factory was in Hannibal and that Mr. Trimble owns two factories in Granby, also that the factory needed some change. Now in the first place he must not think that if Mr. Blake made a failure that every one else will, for the factory will make butter and cheese next summer and it will be for the farmer's interest of that place to patronize that factory. One factory near Trimble's factory last summer paid the patrons $4.00 per lb. Had the milk been made up at Trimble's factory it would have paid the patrons $5.40 per lb., which would have been a benefit to the farmers of $559.67. Now I would like to ask the person who had that put in the paper, Can you not see that it pays to make butter and skim milk close?

The "la grippe" is making every home a call and Dr. Green is running night and day visiting the sick.

On Saturday last two horses and two calves of Joseph Penniman's were sold on a chattel mortgage in favor of Dr. Green.

Funeral services for Mrs. Henry Hall occurred at the Baptist church, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hannula, Clara Seers and Mrs. Waffle attended the wedding of Miss Gertie Seers in Clay, last week Wednesday.

Mr. Townsend and Mr. Waffle who have been sick are improving.

Mrs. Clinton Pritchard entertained her friends Monday evening, it being her nineteenth birthday. Mr. Oscar Chaffee, in behalf of her friends presented her with a very handsome water set. All reports a pleasant time.

Leather Tires

As the new Volkswagen for some time has been in the market, it is now being used by many of the farmers in the neighborhood. Last Sunday evening the Methodist church was thronged with many people to see the new tires. Mr. Davidson preached a powerful sermon on the subject. On Monday evening there was a very interesting meeting at the Presbyterian church, to listen to the sermon on Popular Amusements. Mr. Davidson spoke kindly but strongly against the theatre, card playing and dancing parties. While some may have differed from the views expressed by the speaker none could question the sincerity, honesty and able manner in which he presented his reasons for his objections to the popular amusements of the day.

Henry Owen is a candidate for highway commissioner. It is reported that there are six other candidates in the field.

A postal from Rev. B. Benning states that services will be resumed in the Universalist church next Sunday morning and evening as he will return from the East during the week.

It is rumored that the N. Y. Central & Hudson River Railroad together with the West Shore will build a branch line of these roads from Baldwinville to Oswego. If this is done it will pass through Oswego Falls.

Samuel Green has been dangerously ill with pneumonia during the past week, so ill that his life has been despaired of. This morning his condition is reported as somewhat better and there are now hopes for his recovery.

The Citizens' Bank is now doing business at its new quarters in the Lewis House block on First street. The Water Works office is now located in the lower floor of the Savings Bank building next to THE TIMES block.

The following gentlemen will be present at the farmer's institute which is being held in Mexico to-day and to-morrow: E. A. Powell, Syracuse; A. R. Eastman, Waterville; Mr. Hall, Gouverneur; P. A. Converse, Woodville; John Gardiner, Oswego; besides several local speakers, among whom will be Judge Wright, Drs. Stone and Rev. W. E. Hemenway.

Those who pretend to know any thing will ever be done by the English syndicate in relation to the cheese factories in central and northern New York for the purchase of which they secured options last fall. The deal did not work to suit them. They could not secure the option of a sufficient number of the best factories to form a substantial trust. This is as it should be.

Manager Stephens will have one first class musical entertainment for Fultonians each season if it knooks out all the profits he gets from the opera house for the balance of the season. He has engaged the celebrated Lotus Glee Club of Boston, consisting of Messrs. Devoil, Long, Lewis and Davis, with Mr. Frank J. Smith as accompanist and Miss Marshall reader, for Wednesday, Feb. 13, at the opera house.

Mr. Davidson has now been nearly four weeks in Fulton and has labored most heartily and acceptably. Over three hundred persons have thus far expressed in a public way their purpose to become Christians, including many heads of families as well as scores of our young men and ladies. A voluntary offering to which all who choose are invited to contribute is being taken for the benefit of Mr. Davidson.

This evening and to-morrow evening (Thursday) the closing meetings under the direction of Mr. Davidson will be held at the Methodist church. On Friday he leaves for Titusville, Pa.

The new dog law will go into practical operation the coming spring. It provides for a tax of $1 to $3 on each single dog owned by an individual and $3 to $5 each for each additional dog. Owners must register their dogs annually before May 1st in the Clerk's office, or suffer a fine of $3 to $7 for failure to do so. A dog not registered may be killed by any constable or policeman, who shall receive fifty cents for each animal dispatched, provided proper certification is made. Every registered dog must wear a collar bearing the owner's name and number of its license. The object of the bill is not to raise a tax of revenue simply, but to identify owners of sheep killed by dogs.

No fruit repays tedious waiting and waiting better than the most desirable fruit for the orchard.

The Ben Davis is one of the most widely distributed and profitable of the many varieties of apples.

No system of buying and selling or mapping animals will improve the stock of the country. It must be bred up.

A Massachusetts man is said to have had 720 beans grow on one stalk. That was worth saving for seed.

While there is economy in co-operative farming, there is not much to be gained by the farmers who are supposed to suppose.

It makes all the difference in the world whether the men runs the farm or the farm runs the men.

There are 107 native Granges in New Hampshire, with a total membership of 7,500.

A variety of food is always relished by animals as well as by man, and is beneficial in no affording all the necessary nutritive elements to nourish the system.

Corn is the lowest it has been since 1922. New corn is selling at or near 20 cents in Chicago and 20 cents in New York.

Ploughing in January is a rare experience in this latitude, but it has been done this year in several parts of the Middle and New England States.

Farmers who understand their own interests are now doing all they can to prevent the further destruction of insect-eating birds.

The increase in variety of fruits and in area occupied in California and Oregon is yearly enlarging, and in some directions limiting importations of sub-tropical kinds.

One of the greatest obstacles to the successful production of potatoes is the disease known as the potato rot. The potato beetle is now well under control and is no longer feared.

Leading New York wheat dealers believe that Europe has no other place to draw upon for her supplies than the United States for the next six months, except the Argentine Republic, which never exported over 3,000,000 bushels.

State Dairy Commissioner Brown of New York is distributing 10,000 printed copies of the rules and regulations concerning the care of milk and the making of first-class butter and cheese, which were prepared by the experts of his department.

Outing fodder by hand.

A broad writer observes that the farmer who, contenting to chop up the stalks of a corn crop and feed by hand needs a wonder if his sons take a dislike to farming and quit it for some pleasanter employment the first opportunity. Many a young man leaves the farm because he has a liking for machinery, and desires to work where he will direct forces of steam or horse power rather than do all with his muscles. Such a youngster is just now especially needed on the farm. More and more skillful with complicated mechanism needed in the ordinary operations of the farm.

Probably in a few years a majority of farmers will find it profitable to keep a steam engine, to save wood, cut fodder and furnish power for many operations now performed by hand. More than a few boys have acquired a distaste for farming by being required now after hour to turn grindstones or swing the revolving charr.

Poor Farming and Poor Horses.

Some one who is evidently a shrewd observer declares that poor farming and poor horses go hand in hand—that, like "birds of a feather," they "flock together." And he further affirms that no farmer ever saw a good crop of any kind raised by a lot of broken-down plows, or an inferior class of horses, except where the land is so productive that it would be impossible to raise a poor crop. A poor farm may be made much better by farming crops in the best possible manner. If deep ploughing is best, it cannot well be done, or done at all, with inferior horses. The preparation of the ground for planting is a laborious task, and without good horses it cannot be well done. In short, there is no work on the farm that a good team cannot do to a better advantage than a poor one, and for that reason, if nothing else, a farmer stands in his own light when he tries to get along with an inferior class of horses.

Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup contains nothing injurious and will relieve your baby of pain and all disorders of the bowels at once. Price 25 cents.

"The Electric Collecting Agency" of Syracuse, which is doing considerable business in Fulton and Oswego Falls, receive about a column article in Monday's Syracuse Herald concerning the methods of doing business, which are such that if the debtors do not make arrangements for settlement he has to undergo lawsuits, traveling expenses to "instant" parts to attend courts and loss of time, if not of position, that arrangements are usually made for settlement immediately. Several lawyers to whom the matter has been submitted say that if a test were made the proceeding would be put under the head of a misdemeanor. UNUSUAL FOR THIS CLIMATE.

It is not a common thing to hear of ploughing in Vermont in the month of February, but it was done this year. Henry Owen reports that on Feb. 5—last Wednesday—he ploughed about an acre of sod ground on his farm about three miles south of the village. He also ploughed on the 7, 8, 13, 14 and 16th of January about four acres. He found no frost in the ground on any of these occasions. By reference to his diary he finds that he ploughed on all day Jan'y 8, 1910, but never before in February. If he is able to plough during the month of March, every month in the year will have been utilized for that purpose.

1. Journal of the American Medical Association, 1997; 277: 1033-1038.

...the present season of 1888-89 has been one of the most noted for its early no one except of events in this locality will for a moment question. Wedding parties, dancing parties, and social parties of every description, in high life and low life, have followed each other in rapid succession, and not infrequently there have been fireworks on the same night. All this is commendable as far as it tends to strengthen the bonds of love and friendship, and cement more closely the ties which unite mankind in one harmonious and happy family.

The latest sensation in this line which we are called upon to record, and one which from its position, attracted the attention of the whole community for a time, was the full dress party given by the Misses Tucker, at the residence of A. C. Tucker, on Thursday night last. Themselves the acknowledged leaders of fashion here, and prominent in every assemblage of beauty, style and grace, it was not strange that they should radiate about them a circle of friends radiant with loveliness and sparkling with wit.

It was half past ten p. m. when all the guests had assembled in response to invitations sent out several days before. They found their fair entertainers ready with a warm welcome. Miss Nellie Tucker was elegantly attired in a dress of white alpaca, with high corsage, straight sleeves, and long train skirt, trimmed with velvet. Coiffure composed of frizzled bandeaux, ornamented with scarlet flowers, plaited chignon and long curl on the back, white kid slippers.

Miss Anna Tucker was similarly attired in white alpaca, with high corsage, loose flowing sleeves and long train skirt, trimmed with blue velvet and white dots. Coiffure composed of wavy bandeaux, high chignon, long curl at back—the whole ornamented with a wreath of pink roses entwined with green leaves. Gaiters of white kid.

Among the invited guests who must not be omitted were Miss Carrie Jennings, who, though perhaps less in size, filled a no less important place among the attractions of the evening. Her dress was of white alpaca trimmed with blue velvet. Her hair was dressed in a nice fitting bouffant, and her hair was dressed back with a simple band.

Among the invited guests whose presence and accomplishments added interest and pleasure to the occasion, were the following:—Miss Putnam of Rome; dress of white tulle, with high corsage, and long sleeves with puffs, and trimmed with white satin. Deep puffs finished the whole skirt. Coiffure composed of wavy bandeaux with coral colored flowers; front; chignon of a thick cascade of hair, and long curl falling over the back.

Mrs. D. Kellogg, of Oswego, deserved a favorite in all convivial circles. Her dress was of Metemich green, with long sleeves, with close corsage, and long flowing sleeves, trimmed with white satin and crystal headings and long full skirt. Hair dressed with rose-colored velvet; chignon high and plain.

Miss Jeannette, of Watertown. Toilet of black grain silk, high corsage, with square puffing of white illusion, studded with simple black studs; long train skirt, finished with double sash of same material as dress, in back. Back hair in chignon; front frizzled and crowned with a coronet of white moss rose buds very tastefully arranged.

Mrs. Titus was daintily arrayed in a toilet of garnet-colored poplin, plain, tight-fitting corsage; trimming of fringe to match, with train skirt; chignon high, with profusion of curls; white moss rose buds at side.

Miss Fannie Curtis, costume of all-ver-grass silk, close corsage, straight sleeves; trimmed with white velvet and crystal headings; long, full skirt entirely without trimming. Hair dressed plain and in harmony with her style of beauty.

Mrs. Harroun's dress was of violet silk, close corsage trimmed with velvet to match; double sash of same material as dress; long train skirt. Front hair banded with violet velvet and ornamented with wheat heads of gold; chignon banded and dressed high.

Miss Julia Colgrove; dress of white merino, interspersed with blue flowers; long, straight sleeves, close corsage, trimmed with blue silk; sash of same fastened in front and carried back finished the train skirt. Hair dressed plain.

Mrs. Geo. Sherman, neatly attired in a dress of black antique silk, high corsage, straight sleeves, trimmed to match; long full skirt. Front hair plain; chignon plaited; long curl at back.

Miss Frank Coates was attired in a costume of white merino, high corsage, straight sleeves, scarlet satin panier overskirt; high carnation bronze garters. Front hair dressed back plain, ornamented with wreath of scarlet velvet leaves; chignon plaited.

Miss Elizabeth Lyons wore a dress of green silk, high corsage, straight sleeves, trimmed with velvet to match; hair dress plain; chignon coiled.

Miss Mary Ostrander was tastefully robed in a dress of green poplin, with high corsage of white illusion, trimmed with fringe to match; panier overskirt, with long train. Hair dress plain, with a single cluster of autumn flowers.

Mrs. Geo. Hart appeared in a costume of blue silk, close corsage and straight sleeves, trimmed with white dots; long full skirt. Hair ornamented with blue flowers.

Miss Martha Ostrander wore a dress of black silk, trimmed with folds of the same. Hair dressed with orange flowers.

Miss Emma Lewis, dress of blue silk, trimmed with fringe to match, straight sleeves, and long train skirt. Front hair frizzled, and ornamented with a wreath of white flowers; chignon in coil, and long frizzled curl at back.

Miss Nellie Tucker, dress of pearl grey brocade luster, high corsage, short sleeves, trimmed with satin to match; long train skirt. Coiffure composed of wavy bandeaux with white flowers; chignon surrounded by frizzled hair. We were a dress of striped fawn colored silk, high corsage, straight sleeves, long full skirt trimmed with velvet. Hair plain, dressed back with simple band.

Mrs. Clarke, dress of elegant plaid silk, high corsage, straight sleeves trimmed with velvet, with long train skirt. Front hair plain; chignon plaited, with long curl ornamented with scarlet flowers.

Miss Nellie Bradshaw, dress of white alpaca, high corsage, straight sleeves, long train skirt, with sultana-colored gros grain silk panier over-dress; white kid slippers. Coiffure composed of frizzled bandeaux, ornamented with scarlet flowers; chignon surrounded with plait; long curl at back.

The gentlemen present were our well known beaux, reinforced by a few from abroad. We have space only for the following notices:—W. Hubbard, of New York, in plain black.

Messrs. Gay Barnes and — Baker, of Rome, in plain dress, fine looking and gentlemanly appearing.

Mr. Ames, of Oswego, in plain black with kids, lively and entertaining.

Mr. J. Higginer, in full fashionable dress, tight pants, short coat, manne-colored kids.

Mr. Jennings, also Messrs. F. E. Smith and S. W. Nettleton—the two latter gentlemen in white envelopes; and perhaps several others whose names do not at this moment occur to us.

In dancing and other agreeable pastime the party whiled the hours until twelve, when the gentlemen doffed their kids and, like the true gallants they were, served their fair companions and themselves with refreshment from the well laden board conveniently placed. The refreshment consisted of biscuit, half a dozen kinds of cake, chicken salad, cold turkey, pickles, tea and coffee, chocolate blanc mange, what jellies, ice cream, &c., and were prepared in a style and manner to do credit to the best regulated cuisine.

Another hour or two was spent in social enjoyment in which all participated with renewed zest, and the company separated with benedictions on the heads of their fair entertainers. And so passed off the grand party of the season.

Edward Bellamy, the author of "Looking Backward," will contribute to the March number of the North American Review a reply to General Francis A. Walker's criticism of his theories in the February Atlantic.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine.

Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. It is sold everywhere.

IT IS POODLER To avoid the risk of getting a bad soap, you must know what you are getting. The Ivory Soap is the only one that is pure and white, and it is the only one that is sold everywhere.

THE OLD MAN Bow low the head, do reverence to the old man, once like you. The vicissitudes of life have silvered his hair and changed the round merry face to the worn visage before you. Once the heart beat with aspiration, crushed by disappointment, as yours, perhaps, is destined to be. Once this form bulged prominently through the gay scenes of pleasure, the broad ideal of grace; now the hand of time that withers the flowers of youth, has bent that figure and destroyed that noble carriage. Once, as yet, you were possessed the thousand thoughts that pass through your brain, now wishing to accomplish deeds equal to a monk in fast; now longing for a life of quietude, that noble carriage, now the hand of time has bent that figure and destroyed that noble carriage.

Dr. J. C. Curtis is again out and is fast regaining strength after his severe illness.

The marriage of Miss Grace Langdon to John Melstyre occurs this afternoon.

W. E. Perry has opened a grocery store in the building on Oneida street recently vacated by the Water Works Co.

MARRIED.—Feb. 10, 1890, at Oswego Falls, Macy Spurr of Wolcott to Hattie L. Kelley of Fulton, by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker.

The Syracuse Herald made a grand fight for the re-election of Mayor Kirk, but it was to all appearance a foregone conclusion that he would be defeated.

Town meeting day is one week from next Tuesday. The Democratic and Republican caucuses will probably be held next week Saturday. Nominating the best men.

Hon. N. N. Stronach, as chairman of the Assembly Committee on Privileges and Elections, is presiding at West Troy where claims to a contested assembly seat are being heard.

Syracuse is to have a baseball club next season. It is to be managed by George K. Frazer who is collecting to gather a very good combination much to the delight of lovers of the national game.

As we go to press Mrs. M. A. Stewart is lying at the point of death at her home on Cayuga street. She is given up by her physician and friends and her death is hourly expected.

St. Valentine's day has apparently taken a state of innocuous decadence. There was no perceptible increase in the mails at Fulton, nor according to reports in any part of the county.

The exceedingly spirited struggle for a mayor at Syracuse yesterday resulted in the election of Wm. Coville Republican candidate by a majority of 808 over Wm. B. Kirk the Democratic candidate.

Daniel Dougherty, the "silver tongue" orator, is to deliver his famous lecture, "Orations and Oration," at the Academy of Music, Oswego, on Saturday evening, March 13th, under the auspices of Branch 14 of C. M. B. A.

A. T. Carson of this village will give a talk on "Importance of accurate records annual membership and the annual convention of the N. Y. State Y. M. C. A.," at 14th Avenue at 1 o'clock.

White Caps or a party of a similar nature are apparently abroad getting in their work at Fulton. This is apparent from the fact that a number of young boys were seen yesterday in a secluded spot yesterday and despite their kicks and squalls out from the top of his collar with a pair of scissors about three inches. It is a well known fact that young boys are accustomed to wear collars. Not only is this essential but it is equally important this year that one should be chosen who is well versed in the county affairs and in an able manner can look after the interests of the town of Volney. It is not the province of THE TIMES to discuss this matter from a political or party standpoint but to urge the people of Volney that if they are not bound hand and foot to their party to see that the proper person is elected.

The one, in our mind, that stands out conspicuously as best fitted to fill the office is Arrie Rice. He has served on the Board several terms and was always acknowledged by his colleagues of both parties to be one of the ablest members. No person is better posted on the affairs of town and county than he. No one would be better judgment in looking after the town's interests. No one questions his integrity.

We do not know that Mr. Rice would willingly accept the nomination but in our opinion he is the man that should be nominated.

The following from an exchange, will apply to a great many thousands of people: It is strange why some people get mad as soon as they are asked to pay an account. No right thinking man will do so, and no honest man who intended to pay when he contracted the debt will blame a person for asking for that which belongs to him. If you have the money, pay it, and if you cannot, then say so like a man.

An enthusiastic meeting of the "No

Gardner presided and made some remarks. Mr. Kenyon of Oswego and

Mr. Seymour of Cortland made ex-

His election to the senate for a second term was by the unanimous voice of his party in Nebraska. At the time of his first term, he was the first man to be elected to the senate from Nebraska.

STANLEY'S OWN BOOK.
Mr. Stanley has advanced so far with his account of his adventures in achieving the rescue of Bunin as to be able to announce the title of his book. All sensible persons will await with patience for the publication of the authentic account, "In Darkest Africa and the Quest, Rescue and Retreat of Bunin, the Governor of Equatoria," though there will be an abundance of Stanley literature turned out from the printing presses during the next few months. Probably the smoothest and most complete book will be able to convince some gullible persons that it is not a mere "book of the week" but the only genuine narrative of the great traveler's heroic, private and suffering life given to the world. Would-be-purchasers should be on their guard—New York Times.

THE PRESIDENT IN FULTON.
THE SICK TO RECEIVE SERVICES FROM THE President of the New York Medical and Surgical Institute, consisting of English, German and American physicians, in Fulton, on Monday and Tuesday, March 17th and 18th inst.

All who visit the doctors during their stay will receive services for three months free of charge, with only a small fee in certain cases for medicine. They will visit this village every six weeks, and the only favor asked is a recommendation from those cured.

These eminent physicians treat every variety of disease, but will in no instance accept an incurable case. If your malady is beyond all hope, they will frankly tell you; also, can you against spending more money for unnecessary treatment. It costs nothing whatever to interview these eminent specialists, therefore the most humble in circumstances can have the satisfaction of knowing whether their case is curable or incurable. Remember the dates and go early, as their offices are crowded from morning till night.

The Public will Appreciate It.
The public are indebted to the Royal Baking Powder Company not more for having perfected and prepared a leavening agent that is pure and wholesome beyond a question than for its exposure, so boldly made, of the numerous impure, adulterated and injurious articles that are sold under the name of baking powders, bread preparations, etc., throughout the country. In making these exposures the company has, of course, made itself the target for all sorts of counter attacks, but the animus of these attacks has been perfectly understood by the general public, and by their very virulence have served to more prominently call attention to the good work of the "Royal" Company.

Ordinary adulterations such as are found in coffee, spices, etc., although they are avoided in a commercial sense, are often tolerated because they do not particularly affect the health of the consumer. But when an article like baking powder, that is relied upon for the healthful preparation of almost every meal is so made as to carry highly injurious if not frankly poisonous elements into our daily food, it is the duty of the public authorities to take cognizance of it.

In this fight for pure food made by the "Royal" Company, it is to be noted that the most trustworthy scientific authorities are enthusiastically up on its side. In all the contests of this company with the alum and other impure baking powders the result has proved that every statement made by the Royal Baking Powder Company, both as to the purity of its own and the adulteration of other baking powders of the market, was fully authorized by the most competent chemical and medical authorities of the country.

In this contest two facts have been pretty conclusively settled in the minds of the public—the first that the adulteration of food is a crime, and use them, to make a chemically pure article of food; and the other that the market is full of poisonous alum and other adulterated baking powders which, no matter how strongly endorsed by "commercial" chemists, are to be studiously avoided.

A pure baking powder is one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. There is no longer a question with those who desire purity and wholesomeness of food what baking powder they shall use.

Now, Give Attention
To the purification of your blood. For all no season is the body so susceptible to the benefits to be derived from a good medicine, as in March, April and May. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the people's favorite spring medicine. It stands unequalled for purifying the blood, curing scrofula, salt rheum, etc., regulating the kidneys and liver, removing nervous humors, strengthening and invigorating the whole body, as well as checking the progress of acute and chronic disease, and restoring the afflicted parts to a natural, healthy condition. If you have never tried Hood's Sarsaparilla for your "spring medicine" do this season.

The English government proposes to make seven hours the legal day for clerks in the departments.

CONVENTION AT ST. LOUIS.
The National Association of Manufacturers met at St. Louis, Mo., on Monday, March 2nd, for the purpose of electing officers for the year 1895.

Between thirty and thirty-five delegates from the various manufacturing associations of the country were present. The convention was opened by the reading of a report from the executive committee.

This report had been submitted to the committee at a meeting held at St. Louis, Mo., on Monday, March 2nd, for the purpose of electing officers for the year 1895.

Also, many meetings were held, and the names of candidates for the various offices were discussed. The convention was adjourned on Wednesday, March 4th.

One of the nominees, reported to be the legitimate son of the old Emperor William, is named Vlerck, which means "square." His supporters therefore covered the walls of his district on election day with chalk squares, the word "elect" being written underneath.

Also, many meetings were held, and the names of candidates for the various offices were discussed. The convention was adjourned on Wednesday, March 4th.

Among the candidates of the party were twelve carpenters, ten machinists, eight electricians, eight shoemakers, six musicians, four cigar makers, three tavern keepers, three masons, three indians, two glaziers, two druggists and eight newspaper men.

In fact, the Socialists appear to include among their ranks people from all classes of life, and their support does not come entirely from the ignorant and extremely poor.

Among the ruling party who suffered defeat in the election on March 4th, 1894, it was the Socialists who were defeated. The Socialists were defeated by the ruling party.

Another overthrow is that of Count Rudolf von Bismarck, who is a born statesman. As early as 1871 he was elected to the Reichstag, although in 1871-1872 he was elected to the Reichstag, although in 1871-1872 he was elected to the Reichstag.

He was in 1871 the founder and president of the German National Verein, the aim of which was to consolidate the prevailing influence of Prussia. As a member of parliament he was the leader of National Liberalism.

In 1878 he resigned because he could not achieve for his party an independent position, and only in 1879 he again accepted a mandate and with this the leadership of the National Liberal faction. He was appointed president of the Reichstag and frequently distinguished by the emperor, but the people of Hanover do not seem to estimate him so highly, since Bismarck did not obtain votes enough to become premier.

Speaking of the Socialist victory, a prominent German thus sums up the situation: "It is truly a strong indication of a great anti-national movement in Europe. The movement must rest upon the middle classes, and not so much upon the bourgeoisie and aristocracy. There is no danger that the Socialist party will be the ruling one. These elections do not mean the fall of the empire or the division of property, but mean that Germany will be a more liberal country than it is at present. It is a victory for the people. It promises to benefit the working classes."

The news of the Socialist victory of Bismarck has been received with a thrill of joy in the United States. It is a victory for the people. It promises to benefit the working classes.

She thought she was a very independent creature. "I am not a creature, but an aboriginal woman, with all my wits about me. Why should I make believe to be the weak kneed specimen of feminine foolishness that is your ideal woman?" "Oh, never mind me, just as you like," cried Mr. Bartlett, "but as a voice from the inner world calling, 'What are you two quarreling about now?' " "It is only Mr. Bartlett talking nonsense, mother," said Agnes, "he thinks I can't go up to town for a day's shopping without a chaperon." "Is that all? Why, my dear Gus, Agnes always goes about alone. Indeed, there is no one to go with her, so she has to, she never goes to any harm yet," and Mrs. Ollman looked up appealingly from her sofa.

Have We a Supervisor?

That is a question which may be answered in the affirmative, but when the question, Who is our Supervisor?

is asked, there is a doubt. Willard Johnson, who received the required number of votes on town meeting day to elect him to the office, is not eligible. He is a railroad commissioner and has hidden about the country for several years past venting out our seats on free railroad passes. The Laws of 1873, Chap. 229, Sec. 2, say:

"No railroad commissioner of a town shall hereafter be eligible to the office of Supervisor thereof."

Now, Willard is railroad commissioner and was when he was elected Supervisor. We understand that he says his line has expired as railroad commissioner. The law says "railroad commissioners shall be appointed for a term of five years or until a successor is appointed." No successor has been appointed, and Willard has continued to act in that capacity with the dignity and grace of a Chesterfield.

The laws should not be disregarded. So what shall it be, a special election, an appointment, or shall the old Supervisor hold over?

PERSONAL.
Mrs. E. H. Collins was seen yesterday in a clearly recovered condition.

City was opened last week, the sum of $500 having been paid by the relatives.

Samuel Green is able to be above the house after his long and dangerous illness.

Mrs. E. T. Jones is dangerously ill. Her daughter, Mrs. Helen Alfred of Fargo, Dak., is here with her.

Mrs. Curtis of Syracuse again occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church, Oswego Falls, last Sunday afternoon and evening.

Anyone wanting a fine family horse, kind in every particular, safe in every way, coming seven years old, and a good traveler, can consult Rev. R. Branning for a week.

Rev. B. Branning will close his services with the Universalist society next Sunday March 30. The services will be held both morning and evening.

Edward Billings and Elmer Brown of Oswego Falls were on the river docks Saturday, when they captured and had a cold bath and a hard time to get to shore. Mr. Billings lost his triple-barreled gun valued at $100.

Two well known soldiers have gone to join the silent hosts during the past week. Gen. George Crook who died on Friday last at Chicago and Gen. Robert Schenck who died at Washington on Sunday evening.

Efforts are being made to start a Sons of Veterans Camp in Fulton and the committee desire us to announce that all Sons of Veterans are earnestly requested to attend a meeting to be held in G. A. R. rooms to-morrow evening, and request that all Veterans urge their sons to join.

On Thursday afternoon and evening about seventy-five friends and neighbors gathered at the residence of Mrs. S. M. Chase, No. 4 Seneca street, to celebrate her 78th birthday. After doing justice to a well spread table they adjourned to the parlor where music furnished by Holden's string band. The evening was enjoyably spent.

Assemblyman Stranahan of Fulton distinguished himself on Wednesday when called to the chair by Speaker Hutted. Some of the older members thought it would be good fun to rattle the young Oswego man. He did not succeed, however, as his rattles were sharp and quick. Mr. Stranahan seems to be making his mark.—Oswego Palladium.

JOHN A. Place, editor of the Oswego Times, was last week appointed postmaster of Oswego in place of editor Barry who's term expires April 30. There have been strong efforts made to prevent Mr. Place from securing the appointment, but there was never much doubt but that he would secure the appointment. His paper has always been an energetic Republican journal, and his appointment is a just recognition of his services. We extend congratulations.

Charles Mangot who was recently elected exco. commissioner at Oswego Falls is in the same boat apparently that Willard Johnson is in Fulton. He a trustee of Oswego Falls when elected and the law states that no person shall act as trustee and exco. commissioner at the same time. As he has not acted as trustee since his election as exco. commissioner he may be all right. The facts have been submitted to the state Attorney General, to Judge Churchill and Judge Wright.

Steamer No. 1 returned from Oswego last week with a new boiler. On Saturday it was tested before members of the village trustees for their approval. Engineer Hammond got up 20 pounds of steam in 5 minutes and 45 seconds and started a steam in 6 minutes and 15 seconds. This we believe is the quickest time ever made here. With two streams being thrown the pressure was able to be kept up. The boiler was placed in the steamer by Mr. Fitzgibbons of Oswego and is said to be the only one of its kind now in use. The test was satisfactory and the work accepted.

The "Merit" Company.
This excellent company is filling a week's stand at the opera house and drawing good houses. "Dad's Girl" was presented Monday evening before a very large audience and "Velvet and Rags" last evening. This evening the play is "Pretty Polly." Mora is a great favorite here and retains in every particular the favorable impression she made a year ago. The irrepressible Fred Williams is as clever as ever and cannot be surpassed in his character parts, and the support is good. Go and enjoy a pleasant evening's entertainment.

Attention! 24th Regt. N. Y. Infantry.
All survivors of the above Regiment are requested to meet at the rooms of Post Schenck on Monday, March 31st, at 8:30 p. m. to confer with the officers and committee of the Second Annual Re-union of said Regiment, which will be held at Fulton, on the 17th day of May next. Let all attend and help to make this second re-union a source of pleasure to all the survivors of this grand old regiment which formed a part of the famous Iron Brigade.

A Special Election.
Our town clerk, C. H. Gardner, has called a special election for Tuesday, April 1st, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. to elect a Supervisor for the town of Volney. This is necessary as Willard Johnson who received the necessary votes for election, town meeting day was ineligible to the office, being a railroad commissioner.

A Voice From the West.
Read what E. E. Goff, President of the Commercial Nat. Bank of Appleton, Wis., says about The Gifford Churn:
"The No. 4 churn you sent us reached us all right. My farmer has given it a thorough test and considers it by far the best churn ever introduced in the west."

HINDERCORNS.

...the farmer who is looking for a good stock for his market, made a study of the market as well as quality. With him it is a vital question how to keep his animals in thriving condition and at the same time to keep the market at the best. To starve or underfeed stock leads to ruin and bankruptcy. There is more stock than feed. It is far better to sell off the surplus at once and keep only what can be well and sufficiently fed.

A great deal of valuable forage is either allowed to go absolutely to waste, or is fed in a very wasteful manner. First among this is corn fodder. It may be cut up to advantage only where there are appliances for chopping it. For horse the tops and leaves of corn fodder, fed without cutting, are the best coarse forage that can be given. Hay and straw are best cut, wet, and mixed with ground feed. It is good economy to grind all kinds of grain before feeding. I grind corn, oats, barley, flax for horses and hogs and cows, for cattle and sheep. Oats, barley, rye, and wheat offal should be ground fine. My way of feeding horses and milch cows is to take two parts of oat-meal to one of corn-meal, with a little molasses, and mix with fine cut hay, made slopping wet. I never feed dry food to horses and was in much the habit of feeding corn. Molasses is coming into general use. It makes good, catfodder, but should be fed to horses sparingly, and with care. I am not so much afraid of the danger of founder as of the fuff on the heads.

The cheapest feed for stock hogs and breeding sows is ground feed, mixed with clover hay cut short. Nothing surpasses this in cheapness or health, and a sow fed on this mixture will be likely to have a large flow of milk. It should not be fed to fattening hogs, as it will give the lard a greenish cast. Poultry of all kinds can be given clover, cut fine, and then mixed and cooked with chop. American Agriculture.

They make you feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills for the cure. They relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Cherokee Strip Land Boomers.

What is known as the "Cherokee strip" in the Indian territory is attracting the attention of "land boomers." It was thought that the strip would be sold to the government at an early day, and Oklahoma, Oklahoma, Oklahoma, the headquarters of hundreds of people ready to make a fortune in the dividing line. Carpenters were busy building small frame houses and mounting them on wheels, so that when the rail came they could be wheeled across the country to the desired spot and the claim held by the best title possible in the scramble.

The other day the intelligence came that the president had signed the bill to settle, and in a night 10,000 people rushed in. They are now of course, in the scramble. The experiences of those who staked the Oklahoma country do not seem to have taught their successors the lesson that in a wholesale sale of land the government will not be taken in by a few speculators. The little bit where one makes a fortune. The lottery of life is a very uncertain thing, and the value of the prize is in the chance, there are few prizes and many blanks.

An Atrocious Crime in Russia.

Nearly every country has seen its share of atrocious crimes, but a recent atrocity at Moscow has surpassed all others. The victim, a woman of thirty named Daria, was well known for her many good deeds. Her body was found in a sack on the floor of a room in the house where she lived. The crime was fastened on a medical student, but was not proved. No reason has developed for the murder and mutilation. The woman's life was spent in doing good, and it was not known that she had an enemy in the world.

Guarding Against Diphtheria.

The English house of commons is preparing to consider measures to prevent more fully the introduction of diphtheria into the British Isles. The main country of export aimed at seems to be the United States, and a recent debate on the subject has been held in the house of commons. The measure is to require that all persons coming from the United States to England without contact with animals from the eastern states, among which diphtheria is prevalent. Curiously enough, the measure is being introduced by a member of the opposition.

Recent statistics regarding the United States life saving service are of value. They show that since the present system was introduced, ten years ago, 7,000 persons have been saved and over $10,000,000 worth of property has been saved. The cost of maintaining the service has been less than $10,000,000. There are 233 stations—165 on the Atlantic coast, eight on the Gulf of Mexico, eight on the Pacific and forty-five on the coast of the great lakes. The wages paid are small, the maximum salary of a keeper being $300, while the men get $20 a month and are expected to be their own food and clothing.

Treatment of Enlivened Men.

The United States navy now has an investigation on hand similar in kind to the one at present agitating the army. The latter, it will be remembered, had to do with the charge that a private soldier was subjected to excessive punishment for not obeying an illegal order given him by a lieutenant at Fort Belvoir, Minn. The soldier has been released and the officer is undergoing court martial. The naval episode has to do with a sailor named McCalla, who was charged with the offense of a disciplinary measure which was imposed on a sailor named McCalla. The sailor was charged with the offense of a disciplinary measure which was imposed on a sailor named McCalla. The sailor was charged with the offense of a disciplinary measure which was imposed on a sailor named McCalla.

I can't help telling the truth as I see it, and describing what I see. To describe otherwise than as I see it, would be to describe as I do not see it. I have no other object in view than to tell the truth as I see it, and describe what I see.

FARMING is depressed. The effort now seems to be to pay taxes and not to run the business. The subject is being discussed freely in agricultural journals and popular periodicals. The increase from 1880 to 1890 was, taking an average of the percentages of the number of farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep, about 10 per cent. The population 10 per cent. From 1890 to 1895 the increase in number of farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep was 42 per cent. Population 28 per cent., with a decrease in cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep.

From 1895 to 1900 the increase in farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep was 42 per cent. Population 28 per cent., with a decrease in cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep.

From these statistics it can be seen that the farmer is laboring under a great disadvantage. The increase in population has not kept pace with the increase in the number of farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep. The farmer is laboring under a great disadvantage.

The sheriff's office in New York City has become of national interest. A few days since ex-Sheriff Fink was found guilty, in a criminal court, of conspiracy in procuring a fraudulent divorce from his wife. He therefore resigned the office of sheriff and Gov. Hill appointed Gen. Daniel E. Sickles to serve the unexpired term. Gen. Sickles was a general in the late war, is 62 years old, a man of large executive ability and thoroughly honest. At the recent investigation of the workings of the sheriff's office, it was discovered that large sums of money were paid by prisoners for privileges and that the office was run for the money there was in it. Gen. Sickles commenced at once to reform the office as soon as he entered upon his duties, and some startling developments have been made. It is found that the legal fees of the office are not sufficient to pay the sheriff a fair salary and the legal fees of the deputies amount to only $40, per month. Most of the deputies resigned and the Gen. has found it difficult to procure deputies at that unenviable figure. However, large law firms have agreed to supply him with deputies until the Legislature acts upon the matter. The sheriff is now framing a bill for the purpose of rectifying the defects in the working of the office. He has started upon a much needed reform and we trust will be successful. His term of office is short, but it is probable that he will accomplish so much that the people will demand his continuance in office.

When Woman Makes a Letter.
Femininity in the postoffice is an amusing study. In the matter of dropping a letter, ordinary, white, every day letter, for instance, she affords an insight into the character of the average woman. The locker on her hand, holding the letter, is the other day than to watch this little operation for five minutes. Out of thirty young women who went to cast their votes in the slot, twenty-two, by exact calculation, withdrew the letter before it had reached the slot. The letter was not to be cast, but to be "very" sure the letter was securely sealed, properly addressed, stamped, and to be certain no one could look through the envelope to read its contents. Out of these twenty-two ladies three had forgotten to put a stamp on their letter, and two had to add something to the address on the envelope, while another carried off with her the letter she had intended to mail.—Boston Record.

A Store Used as a Bed.
In the north of China the climate is quite cold, and there are no stoves or fireplaces in the way of heat. In some of the general rooms are small charcoal braziers, but the bedrooms, which are very scantily furnished, contain neither stove nor bed. In their place is a brick platform long enough for a man to stretch himself at full length upon and raised a foot or two from the floor, with an opening in the side. Into this aperture the servant pushes a pile of burning coals, and when the bricks are thoroughly heated the traveler spreads out upon them the bedding he has brought with him, and lies down to rest on his stove.—Exchange.

Art School.
There have been only two train robberies on the New York Central railroad since it was completed. The robbers started in with great enthusiasm, but so did the government, capturing and killing every one implicated, and now a passenger train which by without even stopping has many drummers and band leaders on board.—Detroit Free Press.

Charles Hoffman is to come out of the government to sing at the funeral of Mrs. Reeves in London.

From 1890 to 1895 the increase in farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep was 42 per cent. Population 28 per cent., with a decrease in cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep. From 1895 to 1900 the increase in farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep was 42 per cent. Population 28 per cent., with a decrease in cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep.

From these statistics it can be seen that the farmer is laboring under a great disadvantage. The increase in population has not kept pace with the increase in the number of farms, cattle, swine, hogs, and sheep. The farmer is laboring under a great disadvantage.

The sheriff's office in New York City has become of national interest. A few days since ex-Sheriff Fink was found guilty, in a criminal court, of conspiracy in procuring a fraudulent divorce from his wife. He therefore resigned the office of sheriff and Gov. Hill appointed Gen. Daniel E. Sickles to serve the unexpired term. Gen. Sickles was a general in the late war, is 62 years old, a man of large executive ability and thoroughly honest. At the recent investigation of the workings of the sheriff's office, it was discovered that large sums of money were paid by prisoners for privileges and that the office was run for the money there was in it. Gen. Sickles commenced at once to reform the office as soon as he entered upon his duties, and some startling developments have been made. It is found that the legal fees of the office are not sufficient to pay the sheriff a fair salary and the legal fees of the deputies amount to only $40, per month. Most of the deputies resigned and the Gen. has found it difficult to procure deputies at that unenviable figure. However, large law firms have agreed to supply him with deputies until the Legislature acts upon the matter. The sheriff is now framing a bill for the purpose of rectifying the defects in the working of the office. He has started upon a much needed reform and we trust will be successful. His term of office is short, but it is probable that he will accomplish so much that the people will demand his continuance in office.

When Woman Makes a Letter.
Femininity in the postoffice is an amusing study. In the matter of dropping a letter, ordinary, white, every day letter, for instance, she affords an insight into the character of the average woman. The locker on her hand, holding the letter, is the other day than to watch this little operation for five minutes. Out of thirty young women who went to cast their votes in the slot, twenty-two, by exact calculation, withdrew the letter before it had reached the slot. The letter was not to be cast, but to be "very" sure the letter was securely sealed, properly addressed, stamped, and to be certain no one could look through the envelope to read its contents. Out of these twenty-two ladies three had forgotten to put a stamp on their letter, and two had to add something to the address on the envelope, while another carried off with her the letter she had intended to mail.—Boston Record.

A Store Used as a Bed.
In the north of China the climate is quite cold, and there are no stoves or fireplaces in the way of heat. In some of the general rooms are small charcoal braziers, but the bedrooms, which are very scantily furnished, contain neither stove nor bed. In their place is a brick platform long enough for a man to stretch himself at full length upon and raised a foot or two from the floor, with an opening in the side. Into this aperture the servant pushes a pile of burning coals, and when the bricks are thoroughly heated the traveler spreads out upon them the bedding he has brought with him, and lies down to rest on his stove.—Exchange.

There have been only two train robberies on the New York Central railroad since it was completed. The robbers started in with great enthusiasm, but so did the government, capturing and killing every one implicated, and now a passenger train which by without even stopping has many drummers and band leaders on board.—Detroit Free Press.

Work for the Town's Interest.

Fulton had a small boom last year, nothing startling, but yet there was a good advance the first six months.

Then the factory closed and this community is now trying to maintain its usual vigor without the revenue therefrom. Merchants and others feel the change. If ever there was need of combination to do something it is now. There have been efforts heretofore by citizens' committees to do the village good and they are deserving of credit. But sustained work is needed. Nature has done everything possible to make this a large manufacturing town. Cost of living is low, labor cheap and freight right. The fault then must be with the citizens, for towns all around have increased rapidly, to wit: Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Oneida, Canastota, &c. With hundreds of towns holding out large inducements to manufacturers, we cannot expect them to come here unless they know that we exist. There has not been enough liberality, not enough concentrated work among the citizens. This village ought not to have lost its trade with knitting factory or Ross and his feed cutter manufactory. Complaint has always been made that the people with money were to blame. That is a poor excuse. If the moneyed men will not join in a work of benefit to the town, let them go. Do what can be done without them. Now that many have more time for thought than is desired, it is not too well to make the Citizens' organization active. It ought never to cease steady, earnest, continuous work until every inch of water that flows by shall be utilized.

A committee appointed from the Sabbath School of the Presbyterian Church of Fulton report the following:

WHEREAS, one by one, those connected with our Sabbath School, are called from our midst to higher service in Heaven, let us together, let us give thanks for their life on earth and the rest yet to come.

RESOLVED, that we hereby give expression to our tender sympathy, with the deeply bereaved family, mingling our tears with theirs, while we affectionately commend them to Him, who heals the broken in heart and bindeth up their wounds.

RESOLVED, that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family and published in each of the village papers.

Peebles, the Cayuga street clothier, offers a suit of clothes to the person that guesses nearest to the population of Fulton, the result to be determined by the census. Read his "ad" and send in your estimate.

We note the presence of Samuel Green on the street again. We learn that himself and son are prepared to do all kinds of plain and decorative paper hanging in the most satisfactory manner. Orders left as usual at C. S. Eggleston's.

The carnival which was produced under the auspices of the Pathfinders Boat Club here during the winter and gave such excellent satisfaction, will be given in Oswego in about two weeks, for the benefit of the asylum. Mr. and Mrs. Gross are now there preparing for it.

The entertainment and supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church next Friday evening will be unusually interesting. Miss Brandes of Oswego the well known clairvoyant will entertain those present and local musicians will take part in the arranged program. An excellent supper will be served from 5 to 8.

The W. R. C. observed the second anniversary of their organization by an entertainment and supper given to their friends at the G. A. R. rooms last Monday evening. An address was given by the president, Mrs. Julia A. Murphy and remarks made by Edward Lee, city missionary of Oswego, W. J. Patterson, and A. P. Bradt. About 200 were entertained in a most enjoyable manner.

In time of peace prepare for war. When others want to buy—sell. When others want to sell—buy and so on. As applied to this would be a proper time to increase public expenditures, cause why? Times not active, labor plenty, wages low. In such case it is always wise for the public to make as many improvements as possible. Usually the reverse is true, merchants and hence other feel poor; they fight every increase of expenditures. A certain sum is appropriated for our streets. It would be wise if that sum was doubled; it would give employment; the streets need the work; it was never a better time to do it.

W. J. Woolley, for the past three years connected with the White Sewing Machine Co. of Syracuse, has located in Fulton as its representative here, with headquarters at No. 3 Grand Central Building, Oneida St. Since the introduction of the White early in the fall season it has greatly won its way into the hearts of our citizens, thereby substantially increasing its own business. Truly the "White is King."

work in the mills there.

E. A. Waugh has been promoted to good promotion.

The measles are having quite a run in Fulton just at present. A large number of children and several grown up people have it.

$10,000 would start a good manufactory, employing many hands. We need co-operation of honest men in good business enterprises.

E. V. Babcock of Pittsburgh, Pa.,

dropped in town Saturday night.

Hi-business only allowed him to remaining until Monday night.

Mrs. E. R. Foster now has her dress-was married at Syracuse on Wednes-will make their home in the west.

have had remind us of the summer brought humanity out from its winstrolling in all directions and many gliding over the smooth surface of the

THE FUTURE TIMES

Wednesday, April 14, 1915.

WINTER KNOWLEDGE.

It is a deep while the algarads sleep.

Keep the poultry house and yard dry.

Confine the fowls on cold, windy days.

Make a good seed bed before planting.

All foods for plants must be soluble to be available.

Do not remove the mulch from trees and plants too early.

Ground bone is a good fertilizer to put around trees in setting them.

Docking and castrating may be done when the lamb is a week old.

Give your fruit trees a good soil. They cannot feed and thrive on nothing.

If you want to feed milk to a lamb use a tin can with a long spout, like an oil can.

A wash of fresh buttermilk is said to kill lice on hogs. The milk should be well rubbed into the bristles.

The world's available supply of wheat on March 1 was 12,750,000 quarters, against 14,000,000 quarters a year ago.

The scrub animal has a pedigree which by adverse circumstances has a downward instead of an upward tendency.

A well-managed creamery in a community gives it a prosperity that it has never before known.

Plant the garden so that you can have a regular succession of vegetables. Plant small fruit with the same end in view.

Give the cow clover hay. If you have it, bran and crushed oats, and she will provide the lamb with plenty of milk.

Prepare your ground well before planting, cultivate well, and barring accident the harvest will not disappoint you.

Every man should try to furnish himself with all necessary tools and not rely too much on the good nature of his neighbors.

Keep the stem of the tree smooth and free from rough bark and snags. Let only that grow which is needed for future use.

In testing seeds, the smaller seeds that are perfect germinate first, but are afterward slower in development than the larger ones.

A sheep is spoken of as having a "golden hoof" because wherever the animal treads the ground is enriched with its droppings.

France claims the credit of the silo and ensilage system, the idea of which, it is said, was taken from an ant hill.

Butterine differs from oleomargarine in that it is composed of fat and butter combined, whereas oleomargarine is an imitation of butter composed of animal fat alone.

THE POTATO CROP.—Take thought of your potato crop, otherwise an anonymous but philosophical and suggestive writer. Laugh as we may over the Irishman's love of the potato, it is one of America's most valuable products. It is not only a staple for the table, but there is hardly an animal on the farm that will not relish it. Nearly always it comes at a low market price, and even when sold at a low figure in your immediate neighborhood, a few farmers who do a little combining and a little judicious planning will find it possible to ship their potatoes to advantage. It should be remembered, once for all, that plentiful as it may seem, it is not in such place, there is in another part of the world a corresponding dearth, and by closely watching both foreign and domestic markets you are enabled to take advantage of the demand for what you have to sell. A little foresight sometimes saves a good deal of money, and just as often brings about a handsome little profit.

Blind Stingers.

This disease is caused by indigestion, which produces congestion of the brain with consequent loss of sight and of general nervous power. So that the pigs stagger about and run against obstacles which way be in their way, as if blind. Very soon they fall over and become convulsed. Overfeeding is the cause and this fault is quite common for as pigs are greedy and eat much more than they will eat, they eat too much and suffer from indigestion, with the result above mentioned. Treatment is generally useless when the brain is affected. A probable remedy is to give an active purgative, as two ounces of linseed oil with one scruple of calomel, and abstain from feeding for two or three days; then give very little food until the animal is fully recovered.

How to Test Seeds.

To the farmers who have neither hot-bed nor green-houses the following is recommended as an easy method to test seeds, and one that can be tried in any warm room:

Take a dish or a number of them, according to the variety of the seeds you wish to test, and put over it a narrow, thin board, like a shingle. Across this board place a sheet of blotting paper, so that the ends will touch the bottom of the dish. Fill the dish with water, and sow the seeds on top of the paper. Keep this in a warm room, and await the sprouting of the seeds. The blotter will become saturated, and so remain, and the experimenter will see that the supply of water does not become exhausted. If the seed be fresh it will sprout; if old it will mould. Large seeds like peas, corn, etc., should have an additional paper put over them.

COOL CLARK.

U. R. Army writes: For the last two years my health has been excellent. I think it is due to my using Sulphur Bitters, as formerly my health was like lead, and I was frequently sick.

I think the above, which came from heaven to spring up in the hearts of the people.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. 47 w4

How Men Managed It.
"In the Spring of 1885," writes Mr. Ernest Marx, Sioux Falls, Dakota, under date of March 3, 1899, "I was employed in cutting wood on a small stream in Iowa. When I began work the stream was frozen, but it began thawing, and I was obliged to work in wet shoes, half a day. This brought on severe rheumatic pains in my limbs and swelling in my toes. I suffered till December of that year. I used two bottles of St. Jacobs Oil, which entirely cured me, for which I am very thankful."

RECENT LETTERS OF THE FATHER.
In a recent issue of the Father, Mr. Bennett has a very characteristic plan in relation to the result of a special town meeting, or something of the kind, in his opening and closing, he seems to have forgotten the old adage "They who live in glass houses should not throw stones," but "sneeringly" sneers. I have read and critically examined his parallel case, to what I said. I have looked at it right side up, and bottom side up, and sideways, and I am candid enough to own up that I fall to see the point.

I judge Mr. Bennett must be a little mixed in his biblical citation, or behind his class at Sabbath school. I did not know that one of his disciples was implicated in the "betrayal and slaughter" of Christ. If Mr. Bennett will carefully read the XXVI and XXVII chapters of Matthew, as well as the XIV and XV chapters of Mark, continuing with the XXVIII and XXIX of Luke, he will see that it was his betrayal and none of them in his slaughter.

Mr. Bennett does not seem to entertain the idea that the Jews were the ones that sought the life of Christ.

If Mr. Bennett will study the chapters I have named, he will be able to comprehend who clamored for the crucifixion of Christ, and who said, "His blood be on us."

But Mr. Bennett has the floor, he has risen to explain. He thinks if he were in my place he would not try to find out some things, "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing," and "where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Let me see about his explanations. I've found them after careful examination.

"No doubt some Republicans voted for Mr. Johnson with the sole purpose of defeating Mr. Dixon and regaining of any other purpose or principle. Some Republicans were sorry to say, are not perfect. There are occasionally exceptions."

Now, if those are not explanations that explain, Mr. Bennett is not to blame.

Does the editor of the Patriot mean to be understood that there is only an occasional Republican who is not perfect?

Did he ever hear of the Republican convention at Richfield Springs? Has he any knowledge of that heer resolution that was a part of the action of the Republican convention at Syracuse? Did he ever hear of the "Roster resolution"?

Is he ignorant of the fact that the Republican party continued to defeat Mr. John, and helped the Democrats to elect Grover Cleveland?

Has he not found out that the election of B. Harrison was wrought out through means it "would not be best to know too much about," and was not kick defeated by the stealing of the votes?

What kind of a godly, christian, temperance man must he be who drinks wine, thus setting an example to induce others to drink, and who appoints such men to office as J. S. Chas. Brewer and others I might name.

Has Mr. Bennett heard of the amount of money used by the Republican party to defeat the amendment in Pennsylvania?

Does he know anything about the constant efforts which are being made to hinder the work of prohibition by the Republican party?

And yet, the Republican party claims to be the conservator of the temperance sentiment of to-day.

Mr. Bennett has seen fit to ask me a couple of questions, and I am happy in the privilege of answering them. I should have felt a little restrained about answering before being asked, but my way is open now.

Yes, I voted for J. H. D. Distin for supervisor at the special town meeting. My motives for so doing were 1st. I understood that he would do all in his power, if elected to help the cause of temperance.

2d. I wanted to take away the weapons from the hands of the Republicans which they have been using to pound us with, because we will not vote for any man that they nominate.

3d. I saw that there was a chance to make capital for the Prohibition party.

Now I want to ask Mr. Bennett a few questions and see if he will give a clear, straightforward answer.

Did you vote for Mr. Distin at the special town meeting? Why? To be the best of your belief, do you think prominent Republicans of Volney inured against him? If they did do you call it honesty? If they did do you call it honesty?

Do you think the ruin dogery at Washington owned by the Vice President of the Republican party, an ornament to this country?

Do you wish to be counted among those who endorse that murder pen, as it fulfills its object in making widows, teaching criminals, breeding infamy and pauperism. Have you at any time denounced any of the flagrant acts of the Republican party in complicity with the liquor business?

Do you think Quay, Crank and Co. had the right to do with stealing the sailing list of the Voice?

I suppose it would be inconvenient for Mr. Bennett to be without his head at times, and lest he lose it, and no more be P. M. I will not demand an answer to those questions touching the administration.

However there will be those watching to see how he will explain this time.

He thinks if he were in my place he would not try to find out some things, "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing," and "where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Let me see about his explanations. I've found them after careful examination.

"No doubt some Republicans voted for Mr. Johnson with the sole purpose of defeating Mr. Dixon and regaining of any other purpose or principle. Some Republicans were sorry to say, are not perfect. There are occasionally exceptions."

Now, if those are not explanations that explain, Mr. Bennett is not to blame.

Does the editor of the Patriot mean to be understood that there is only an occasional Republican who is not perfect?

Did he ever hear of the Republican convention at Richfield Springs? Has he any knowledge of that heer resolution that was a part of the action of the Republican convention at Syracuse? Did he ever hear of the "Roster resolution"?

Is he ignorant of the fact that the Republican party continued to defeat Mr. John, and helped the Democrats to elect Grover Cleveland?

Has he not found out that the election of B. Harrison was wrought out through means it "would not be best to know too much about," and was not kick defeated by the stealing of the votes?

What kind of a godly, christian, temperance man must he be who drinks wine, thus setting an example to induce others to drink, and who appoints such men to office as J. S. Chas. Brewer and others I might name.

Has Mr. Bennett heard of the amount of money used by the Republican party to defeat the amendment in Pennsylvania?

Does he know anything about the constant efforts which are being made to hinder the work of prohibition by the Republican party?

And yet, the Republican party claims to be the conservator of the temperance sentiment of to-day.

Mr. Bennett has seen fit to ask me a couple of questions, and I am happy in the privilege of answering them. I should have felt a little restrained about answering before being asked, but my way is open now.

Yes, I voted for J. H. D. Distin for supervisor at the special town meeting. My motives for so doing were 1st. I understood that he would do all in his power, if elected to help the cause of temperance.

2d. I wanted to take away the weapons from the hands of the Republicans which they have been using to pound us with, because we will not vote for any man that they nominate.

3d. I saw that there was a chance to make capital for the Prohibition party.

Now I want to ask Mr. Bennett a few questions and see if he will give a clear, straightforward answer.

Did you vote for Mr. Distin at the special town meeting? Why? To be the best of your belief, do you think prominent Republicans of Volney inured against him? If they did do you call it honesty? If they did do you call it honesty?

Do you think the ruin dogery at Washington owned by the Vice President of the Republican party, an ornament to this country?

Do you wish to be counted among those who endorse that murder pen, as it fulfills its object in making widows, teaching criminals, breeding infamy and pauperism. Have you at any time denounced any of the flagrant acts of the Republican party in complicity with the liquor business?

Do you think Quay, Crank and Co. had the right to do with stealing the sailing list of the Voice?

I suppose it would be inconvenient for Mr. Bennett to be without his head at times, and lest he lose it, and no more be P. M. I will not demand an answer to those questions touching the administration.

However there will be those watching to see how he will explain this time.

RECENT LETTERS OF THE FATHER.
In a recent issue of the Father, Mr. Bennett has a very characteristic plan in relation to the result of a special town meeting, or something of the kind, in his opening and closing, he seems to have forgotten the old adage "They who live in glass houses should not throw stones," but "sneeringly" sneers. I have read and critically examined his parallel case, to what I said. I have looked at it right side up, and bottom side up, and sideways, and I am candid enough to own up that I fall to see the point.

I judge Mr. Bennett must be a little mixed in his biblical citation, or behind his class at Sabbath school. I did not know that one of his disciples was implicated in the "betrayal and slaughter" of Christ. If Mr. Bennett will carefully read the XXVI and XXVII chapters of Matthew, as well as the XIV and XV chapters of Mark, continuing with the XXVIII and XXIX of Luke, he will see that it was his betrayal and none of them in his slaughter.

Mr. Bennett does not seem to entertain the idea that the Jews were the ones that sought the life of Christ.

If Mr. Bennett will study the chapters I have named, he will be able to comprehend who clamored for the crucifixion of Christ, and who said, "His blood be on us."

But Mr. Bennett has the floor, he has risen to explain. He thinks if he were in my place he would not try to find out some things, "a little knowledge is a dangerous thing," and "where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Let me see about his explanations. I've found them after careful examination.

Luncheon Surprises.
F. P. Connell was treated to a luncheon party last Friday evening and from every appearance the surprise was genuine. Secretary Carson was delegated to go down town and prevent Mr. Connell from appearing too early on the scene. Under various pretenses he detained him until nearly nine o'clock. When all the guests were in possession, he could easily have been knocked down with a feather. After the first surprise he entered into the spirit of the occasion, and joined in making the whole a most delightful evening to all present. After refreshments had been served, Amos Tommans was called upon to read a paper. The Y. P. S. C. E. presented their host with a beautiful teacher's Oxford Bible. OBITUARY.
Herman Lang died of consumption at the home of his father J. C. Lang in this village on Wednesday evening, April 30th, at the age of 24 years. The deceased was a young man of unusual ability and had many friends in Fulton and Syracuse, having been employed by McCarthy in the latter city. Failing health some time since caused him to visit Colorado Springs. Realizing that he was failing fast and having an irretrievable desire to see his parents once more, he started on the journey home accompanied by his sister, Mrs. J. B. Hall and her husband. Will power kept him up until his journey was ended, but when he had reached home the reaction came and he lived but a little over a day. The remains were taken on Friday to Athens for burial, after short services at the house conducted by Dr. D. M. Rankin.

Miss Rosa J. Adair died at the home of her parents on Ulster street Wednesday, April 30, at the age of 21 years. Consumption was the disease that ended her life. Funeral services conducted by Rev. W. Dempster Chase were held at her late home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body.

Patrick O'Brien died on Tuesday, May 6 at the age of 70 years. Funeral will be held from the Catholic church to-morrow at 10 a. m.

An Almost Forgotten Minstrel.
I met Billy Birch, the old time minstrel, on Broadway nearly every afternoon. Billy's face has been seen "on the end" by nearly every theatre goer in the country. He hangs around the Bijou Theatre now most of these sunny days, enjoying the society of the newer generation. Billy is portly, white-haired and lame. He says one of his confounded legs seems to be older than the other. It is the one he used to bang the tambores on, while Charley Backus held up the other wing of the circle. Birch is chock full of stories of the stage and road—stories that he tells with great gusto. What a story of life such a man could tell! He could tell you as well as he could use his tongue. Birch and Backus were the most popular end men that ever traveled. Poor Backus was shot down on Broadway years ago, while Birch lingers, a poor man, too old to work and too jolly and vigorous to die.—N. Y. Letter to Pittsburg Dispatch.

A New York man in Philadelphia the other day dropped into a Chestnut street restaurant for dinner, and was surprised to find the waiters, the food, the atmosphere, the service, the very name of the place, "The Philadelphia," all so familiar to him that he felt as if he had stepped into New York. "Do—do Philadelphia eat fishballs and buckwheat cakes for dinner?" "Do Philadelphia eat?" "Yes," replied the waiter, "but these are seventy-four passengers up there!"—Detroit Free Press.

A Cumulative Flail.
A Wisconsin man bought a pickled that weighed eighteen pounds the other day. The pickled had swallowed a bass that would weigh two or three pounds, and when he drained the bass he was rewarded by finding two great giant perch in him that he had swallowed, so he said. "I'm a cumulative flail," he said, "and I'm a cumulative flail."—New York Tribune.

JAS. E. FAIRGRIEVE, Editor

I am not telling the Truth as I see it and describing what I see. To describe

otherwise than I see it, would be to delude the public. I am not a politician

but a citizen, and I am not a party man

but a patriot, and I am not a partisan, but a friend of the people.

What this issue THE TIMES enters

upon the twenty-third year of its existence and the fifth year under its present management. We have been looking over the files of the paper to

note what the progress has been and

to those who are interested in this

local paper it will be profitable to do

the same, for it will give you pleasure

as it does us. The paper has never done as good business as it has this past year, and was never so

equipped to do good work and give satisfaction. Being a local paper our field is confined to a limited area, and

we represent but a limited section,

but the interests of the people we reach we have endeavored carefully

to protect. Our purpose has been to give clear ideas of the main events

that have occurred and to give information of the doings of our citizens that has been of interest. As far as possible we have endeavored to stop personal controversies, which

are productive of little good and

much that is degrading. In our column of "Rib Shavers" you have learned many things to cause gloom

along with a hearty laugh, and the stories and poems have helped you

to pass profitably many an hour. To the farmers, we would say, that if you have carefully followed the articles on farming and the brief notes

thereto, you have found much that was valuable. Let us not take too much credit. To you, readers, is due

the praise, for a newspaper is what

the public makes it. By your support you have enabled us to work

carefully for your interest. To the farmers we shall give what is most profitable for your needs. To the public in general we shall strive to promote your welfare, and the interests of this village and Oswego

Falls we shall strive to further in every way. We ask of you all to help us to give you the best local and

country paper in this state. Our interests are united. We are always open to suggestions, so stand by your paper and we will make the coming

year the brightest in the history of this paper.

SAYS AN EXCHANGE: According to an

estimate made by the National Publisher and Printer ten men now read

newspapers of independent faith for every one who read them fifteen

years ago, and the growth of libe-

lism among the masses has been mu-

liferous. The citizen of intelligence

who now reads only his party organ

is now regarded as the bigot from

"away back" and many of the most intelligent parties (dispar party)

organ entirely and read only the independent newspapers. And just as newspaper readers have become

broad and more liberal, the newspapers have become more and more

newspapers and less party organs.

This seventh annual report of the bureau of labor statistics has been printed. It takes several hundred pages to give this information on

I am not telling the Truth as I see it

and describing what I see. To describe

otherwise than I see it, would be to

delude the public. I am not a politician

but a citizen, and I am not a party man

but a patriot, and I am not a partisan, but a friend of the people.

What this issue THE TIMES enters

upon the twenty-third year of its

existence and the fifth year under its present management. We have been looking over the files of the paper to

note what the progress has been and

to those who are interested in this

local paper it will be profitable to do

the same, for it will give you pleasure

as it does us. The paper has never done as good business as it has this

past year, and was never so

equipped to do good work and give

satisfaction. Being a local paper our

field is confined to a limited area, and

we represent but a limited section,

but the interests of the people we

reach we have endeavored carefully

to protect. Our purpose has been to give clear ideas of the main events

that have occurred and to give information of the doings of our citizens that has been of interest. As far as possible we have endeavored to

stop personal controversies, which

are productive of little good and

much that is degrading. In our column of "Rib Shavers" you have learned many things to cause gloom

along with a hearty laugh, and the

stories and poems have helped you

to pass profitably many an hour. To

the farmers, we would say, that if

you have carefully followed the articles on farming and the brief notes

thereto, you have found much that was valuable. Let us not take too much credit. To you, readers, is due

the praise, for a newspaper is what

the public makes it. By your support you have enabled us to work

carefully for your interest. To the farmers we shall give what is most profitable for your needs. To the public in general we shall strive to promote your welfare, and the interests of this village and Oswego

Falls we shall strive to further in every way. We ask of you all to help us to give you the best local and

country paper in this state. Our interests are united. We are always

open to suggestions, so stand by your

year the brightest in the history of this paper.

SAYS AN EXCHANGE: According to an

estimate made by the National Publisher and Printer ten men now read

newspapers of independent faith for

every one who read them fifteen

years ago, and the growth of libe-

lism among the masses has been mu-

liferous. The citizen of intelligence

is now regarded as the bigot from

"away back" and many of the most intelligent parties (dispar party)

organ entirely and read only the independent newspapers. And just as

newspaper readers have become

broad and more liberal, the newspapers have become more and more

newspapers and less party organs.

This seventh annual report of the bureau of labor statistics has been

WINTER KNOWING.

If a hen eats her eggs, kill her. The crop prospects of the Dakotas are pronounced bright.

If the soil is dry, cover seeds deeper than when it is moist.

Taking full loads to market pays best.

It is easy to run in old ruts, but it costs too much.

The crop prospects in most European countries are reported good. The Jersey for butter, the Holstein for milk and cheese.

Be no scrub farmer! Banish forever scrub stock and scrub crops and be a man among men.

Grow for home use what is liked at home; grow for the market what the market calls for.

Winter grain is usually backward in New York; the same is true of meadows and pastures.

The "points" for a Jersey cow are now merged into one test: How much butter can she make?

Generally the nearer the market the better the product when it reaches the consumer.

For cows with young calves brain is a better feed than corn or corn meal, which are too rich and heating.

The proper preparation of the soil for the crop is quite as important as proper cultivation afterward.

Generous feeding of all kinds of stock must be kept up if we would have a full milk pail and egg basket.

The form of the animal and the quality of the meat depend mainly upon the breed, but the growth and development depend mainly on the feed.

There are grazing tracts in Alabama where land is at an acre and butter 36 cents a pound, while milk is 10 cents a quart.

California exchanges claim that the colony system introduced in the Southern part of the State is proving a success. Tracts of land are laid out in small holdings and appointed among a body of immigrants who, upon their arrival, find everything ready for work.

Corn for Fodder and Ensilage.

As a summary of what has been learned in growing corn for fodder and ensilage, the directors of the Agricultural Experiment Station of Cornell University, New York, advise the selection of the largest varieties that will fully mature before frost in the locality where grown. Special attention is called to the fact that heretofore it has been a common practice to sow or plant corn for fodder and ensilage entirely too thick.

Starch and sugar are not fully developed without an abundance of sunlight, and immature plants are likely to contain a large percentage of water. Thus, twenty-five tons of green corn containing 90 per cent. of water give but 5,000 pounds of dry matter, while twenty tons containing 76 per cent. of water give 9,000 pounds of dry matter. In the latter case there is less than half the weight of gross material to handle, while the corn will still have sufficient moisture to give the silage that succulence which is so important for feeding as compared with dry forage crops.

So far all the experiments go to show that effort should be made to raise the largest yield of grain irrespective of stalks, no matter what purpose it is intended for, but it will be found as a rule the larger the yield of grain the larger will be the yield of stalks, and the less percentage of nitrogen in the ripened product is compensated for in its increased nutritive value. Furthermore the fact should not be lost sight of that wood and water alone are not good foods for animals, besides being expensive products to handle.

Pig Feeding.

As the result of pig-feeding experiments at the University of Vermont station, conclude that these propositions are sound:

1. Pig-feeding is profitable even at the low price of 64 cents per pound dressed weight of piglets.

2. The pig is sold at an early age.

3. The pig should be sold as soon as possible after it reaches a live weight of 160 pounds.

4. Grain can be fed to young pigs with profit; fed to pigs weighing over 200 pounds is a loss.

Young pigs should be fed a ration in which the flesh-producing material is more prominent than the heat of fat-producing.

5. The old saying, "Grow the pig and then fat him," should be changed to, "Grow the pig and then sell him."

6. By using this system of feeding and selling, it is possible to raise two sets of pigs in twelve months.

7. The fertilizing value of the food consumed by the pig is equal to nearly one-half the value of the pork.

8. The six pigs in this experiment consumed 5,822 pounds of skim milk, 1,223 pounds of corn meal and 884 pounds of wheat bran. They gained 1,083 pounds in live weight, an average of 1.07 pounds per pig each day. It required an average of 2.79 pounds of dry matter to each pound of gain in live weight.

The pigs fed were Berkshire, Chester White and Yorkshire.

The Best Time to Trim Apple Trees.

At one of the New York Farmers' Institutes the question, "When is the best time to trim apple trees?" was replied to as follows:

Col. Curtis—Opinions vary. Some say when the tree is growing the fastest, others say this will injure the tree, believe it will.

Mr. Hoyt, of Connecticut—We do the most of our pruning the latter part of Winter and in early Spring.

Secretary Woodward—I prune for fruit in Winter, and in the early Spring for wood, when the trees are in leaf.

Mr. Powell—There is really no dormant condition of any tree. A constant change is going on. I prefer to trim my trees just before they come in leaf.

Mr. Penner—I begin in the Autumn and trim all Winter.

William Mackay paid $4,000 for the best rights to the last apple.

THE FULTON TIMES

THE FULTON TIMES

There's no better time in all the Western world to grow corn.

But some at this time of year, the fever is in the blood.

A reason for this is that the hard to be without.

I cannot work, I cannot rest, but far away from home.

For now the orchards are in bloom in my New England home.

I've prepared well; these level fields as far as I can see.

They are all bought and paid for, and they all belong to me.

I never could have done so well at home, you may be sure.

I often think to think upon these farms so still and pure.

But as I sit behind my team and plough the deep black loam.

I see the apple-trees in bloom round my New England home.

Strait gate I draw my furrows wide to meet the rising sun.

Then sow the seed straight westward, and so till the end is done.

And then in autumn's glorious time, when days are calm and bright.

After upon hills of ripening grain waves in the golden light.

But when at night I sleep in bed, in visions sweet.

The hills of old New England around my child's head's home.

My boys are grown to stalwart men, my girls are fit to see.

They're proud of this fine western land, and wonder much at me.

But they have never stood upon the mountain's summit, nor seen old Ocean's crest wave break from the sea.

Nor seen the apple-trees in bloom round my New England home.

So I now teach the apple-trees in bloom round my New England home.

So I now teach the apple-trees in bloom round my New England home.

THE "HOMESTEAD" RAID.

Phinkerton Detectives and Others Arrest the Proprietor for Complicity in the "HOMESTEAD" ROBBERY.

On June 10th occurred the robbery of Norton's jewelry store in Gloversville where about $25,000 worth of diamonds, jewelry and watches were stolen. Detectives were at once put to work on the case and $500 reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the criminals and $500 for the recovery of the property.

On Thursday last three Phinkerton Detectives, A. E. Price, J. T. McManus and A. E. Elson, Sheriff John E. Leavitt and a clerk in the store that had been robbed appeared in Fulton. They came incognito and the object of their visit was unknown until later. Thursday night they secured three double rips from Quirk's livery and accompanied by officers Poole, Curtis, Clark, Dexter and Lake, all proceeded to the "Old Homestead." Shortly before four o'clock Friday morning the place was surrounded and Detective Price, Sheriff Leavitt and Officer Dexter entered and arrested the proprietor, Charlie Holman. Three strangers were also in the place when the detectives arrived and were not molested. Holman was brought to Fulton and in the morning taken to Gloversville by Sheriff Leavitt. The house was thoroughly searched but no trace of the stolen property could be found. Holman is still in Gloversville awaiting his examination but it is now thought that he is not connected with the Gloversville burglary as a large part of the stolen property has been found in Fulton county as will be seen by the following dispatch.

GLOVERSVILLE, June 10.—This afternoon while some boys were playing in the woods near Perth, Fulton county, they found a large quantity of jewelry, which was partly buried. The articles consisted of watch chains, finger rings, etc., and filled a half bushel, measure. They were taken to Amsterdam. It is believed the jewelry is part of that stolen from Norton's jewelry store lately.

W. H. Eriebe, who runs the "Homestead," which is located near Minetto, advertised it for sale last fall and early this spring disposed of it to Holman whom he met in New York. Holman is known to Inspector Byrnes of New York and detectives throughout the country as a professional receiver of stolen goods.

The census enumerators for the village of Fulton, C. E. Streeter and C. S. Murphy, have completed their work and the exact population will soon be known. It is necessary however that their report first be sent to Washington before the public record of any knowledge on the subject. Jumping at Conclusions is a mental disorder taken by a great many people and as is natural, they sometimes overtake them.

A case in point. A man was looking at some of our suits, a day or so since. He admired them; thought they were stylish, etc. But when he learned the price was only $10.00 a suit, he said:

"A 'hey can't be any good at that price.' 'Why not?' said 'Well,' he replied, 'I never yet saw a good suit sold as low as that.'"

The man was reasoning from his experience. A 'good high-price dealer. It's astonishing how these dealers have impressed the popular mind with the idea that nothing good can be had below their 'figures'.

We are having to fight this prejudice and we're doing it with deadly effect. When once the public finds by actual test, that our $10.00 suit is the peer of any $30.00 suit they ever bought, good-by to Mr. High Price.

Our $10.00 suits are the wonder of the season to those who

The Sewing Machine.
The extremely fashionable parsel to be used at the seaside or at the mountains is the most unique Japanese one that can be got. On top must be tied a large ball of twine, which is used when it comes far down on the beach when it is opened. It really is pretty when worn with a cotton gown, and makes a bright spot on the landscape. The red parsel is also in vogue, and is of plain, heavy silk, with a natural wood handle. One having a silver handle is voted extremely had form. The very pronounced liking for red is thought to be the outcome of the general woman's disposition. Lining her coat with scarlet, wearing a scarlet frock, having a scarlet parsel and wearing a scarlet bonnet is the nearest she can get to painting the town red, which from her youth up she has always had a yearning to do.—New York Letter.

Repair Your Worn Out Clothes.
A poor man who wants to dress well and as cheap as he can should not discard a suit so long as its color is fresh and its shape hangs together. If men with moderate incomes, who feel obliged to dress stylishly, do not how large an expenditure for new garments it has saved him would he tries it. MARRIAGE OF A FORMER FULTONIAN.

Although the marriage of John

Bachus, formerly Superintendent of the Oswego Falls factories, occurred a month ago, June 25th, the following account of the wedding taken from a

Bradford, England, paper will be interesting reading to his large number of Fulton friends:

"Yesterday afternoon the marriage of Mr. John Bachus of Cranston, R. I.,

U. S. the eldest son of Mr. J. S. Bacchus, Oak Mount, Bradford, and Miss

Gordon, daughter of Mr. James Gordon, of Cranston, R. I., was celebrated at the Bradford parish church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large assemblage of the friends of the bride and bridegroom,

by the Rev. Edward Vere Hodg-

don, minister of Cranston School, and assisted by the Rev. Canon Barclay,

D. D., the service being fully choral.

The bride who was attended by a very young bridesmaid, and was given away by her father, wore a dress of Irish poplin made in Cranston with long train, small wreath of real orange blossoms, and a tulle veil embroidered with silk. She carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and lilies. The bridegroom wore a tailor-made suit of white cloth, a cashmere dress, and a gold chain.

Leighorn hats and gold bands which were the gift of the bridegroom, were worn by the bride and groom. The bride's bouquet was strewn with flowers in the path of the bride and groom. After the ceremony there was a reception at Cranston, where a large number of friends of the bride and groom were present.

Some 25 or 30 Fulton friends sent a telegram of congratulations on the day of the wedding. It reached Mr.

Bachus during the reception. Mr.

Bachus has arrived in this country with his bride and is at Cranston,

R. I.

"If you can count three, slowly," said the Cincinnati Enquirer, "that is, one count to the second between the flash of lightning and the peal of thunder, you may know that destruction has not been wrought in your own locality. The flash and crash are really simultaneous, only the light of the former travels much more swiftly than the sound of the latter. If it takes three seconds for the noise of the thunder to reach you, then the storm is 3,270 feet—two-thirds of a mile—away."

Coroner Ed Cole was called by a despatch last Monday afternoon to view the remains of a man found on the bank of the Onondaga river a mile below Oak Orchard. He found it to be the remains of E. Allen Van Al-sty, a young man of 21 years.

The concert to be given at the Presbyterian church next Friday evening

by Miss Jennings and Miss Townsend will be of a high order. Miss Townsend as a violinist has gained most favorable mention wherever she has appeared. We quote the following concerning her in which this accomplished young lady has taken part:

The violin solos by Miss Townsend were remarkably fine and well received by the audience. She was frequently encored.—Madison County

Times.

A musicale is to be held this evening at Central Church at which Miss Grace E. Townsend of Syracuse will play two violin solos. The King's Daughters are to be congratulated on securing her services. She was a pupil of the late Dr. Schultz for several years and for the last two years of Prof. Kneeney of Syracuse University. Her playing is vigorous, full of fire and pathos, and will be a treat to all lovers of fine music.—Auburn

I can't help telling the truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe otherwise than it seems to me would be dishonest in this cutting in which I have placed my name.

THE President on Thursday last signed the bill admitting Wyoming as a state.

THE census returns show the population of the state of Washington to be 350,000.

The marriage of the great African explorer, Henry M. Stanley to Miss Tennant, occurred in London, Monday and was a most brilliant affair. Many of the most illustrious persons in England were present.

The total debt of Canada on July 1, 1878, was $174,007,288. The total debt on July 1, 1880, eleven years later, was $288,222,002. The difference between these two sums is $114,214,714. This represents the debt incurred between the dates named, a period of eleven years.

SUNDAY was a day of disaster for Minnesota. A cyclone in the vicinity of Lake Pepin resulted in more than 200 deaths of more than those who lost their lives were excursionists on the lake when the storm came. A short time before this terrible and destructive cyclone came another passed a few miles north of St. Paul destroying much property and killing several persons. These cyclones were the most destructive that have occurred in the West this year.

THE Brooklyn bridge is a big thing but it is not so big as the bridge between New York and Jersey City. The new bridge is to be 7,000 feet long, 100 feet above tide. The central span is to be 2,800 feet—not quite twice that of the Brooklyn structure; the two shore spans are to be 2,600 feet each. The towers are to be 500 feet; those of the Brooklyn bridge are 350. The Washington monument is 555. The four supporting cables are to be four feet each in diameter against the sixteen inches of the Brooklyn bridge. Each cable will be composed of 15,000 steel wires. The anchorage will be half as large as the national capitol building, and each will contain more than a million of the largest of the pyramids of Egypt. The cost of the structure is estimated at $16,000,000.

THERE cannot be too much emphasis upon the financial aspects of this pension business. It is only by a study of the figures that its enormity can be brought home to every mind. Let us repeat them: Great Britain pays for her army, her navy—the largest in the world—and her pensions $100,000,000 annually. France, armed to the teeth, with a navy second to that of England, pays annually for her army and pensions $188,000,000. Germany is mistress of the Continent, with an army that is the envy and the terror of modern civilization, and yet army, navy and pensions cost $114,000,000 annually. Russia, for the same service, pays every year $128,000,000. In the United States we have two or three divisions of "an army," the merest germ of "a navy," but our army, navy and pensions cost $210,000,000 a year. And the man who rule the dominant party have their way the sum will soon be doubled.—N. Y. Herald.

Two men, prominent figures in the history of this country, and each of whom had been a candidate for the presidency, passed away to join the silent majority during the past week. Gen. Clinton B. Fisk was born in Livingston county in this state, in December 1823. In infancy with his parents he moved to Michigan where he had a fairly successful career as merchant, miller and banker. In 1850 he moved to St. Louis and built up a flourishing insurance business. He entered the Union army in 1861, as Colonel and at the close of the war was Major General. After the war he was interested in the management of the freedmen's bureau in Kentucky and Tennessee and his active interest in the work resulted in the founding of the well known Fisk University at Nashville, Tenn. After leaving the South he took up his residence in New Jersey. He espoused the Prohibition cause and ran for Governor on that ticket, polling some 20,000 votes. He naturally became the Prohibition candidate for President in 1880 and polled 249,007 in the country. He was one of the most prominent members of the Methodist church in the country. He will pass into history as a brave soldier and a good man whose participation in politics were due at all times to the courage of his convictions.

Gen. Fremont was born at Savannah, Ga., in January 1813. In early life he was professor in the United States Navy. Between the years 1838 and 1853 he had successfully conducted no less than five expeditions across the southern portion of this continent. His great work in this line made him probably the best known man in this country at that time. In 1856 he was nominated for President receiving within 500,000 as many votes as Fremont. He entered the Union army as Major General but did not fight with others higher in position. He was not so much in the war as he was in the peace.

Gen. Sherman was born at Lancaster, Pa., in January 1823. He was a member of the Union army and was one of the most prominent figures in the war.

THE body of a man who was killed by a train on the D. L. & W. railroad near the home in Syracuse reported to Chief of Police Wright of this city Friday that Fred Curtis another employee of the road who had been sent out to learn to be a furnace heat through the dead body of a newly born infant in the fire box of the engine and it was cremated. The revolution deed was committed near Seneca River. The men were on a coal train bound for Oswego. The engineer was William Gray. When the train left Syracuse another engineer boarded the engine to ride down the road where he was going fishing. After the train left Pleasant Beach, Curtis turned to Gray and said: "After that fellow (meaning Cherry, the engineer who was going fishing) gets off I'll show you some Fourth of July celebration." After a while Cherry jumped off and when just this side of the Seneca River bridge, Curtis called me to him and taking a bundle in a paper, opened it and asked me if I knew what it was. He then said it was a dead baby which his wife had given birth to about 24 hours before. I looked at it more closely and found that it was a male child. Then Curtis said "this is the way I get rid of them." With that he flung the body into the furnace.

Curtis was arrested after his return from Oswego. About this time Dr. E. A. Wood appeared at police headquarters. The physician was able to throw considerable light upon the case. He said that on an early morning on Wednesday morning Curtis came to his office and asked him to attend his wife. Dr. Wood responded at once and found Mrs. Curtis in great suffering. Four hours after he reached the house she gave birth to a male child about five months old. Dr. Wood would not say whether he suspected that an operation had been attempted but he was inclined to think that there was something peculiar about the case. He said that Mrs. Curtis was a very sick woman.

There are four charges made against Curtis. Two of the charges are for obstruction of justice and public decency, the third charge is for a criminal operation in connection with the child's birth and the fourth is for manslaughter.

Dr. Wood has also been arrested charged with performing a criminal operation.

At last the silver bill has passed both houses of Congress and a vexed question settled. An apparently satisfactory compromise which avoids the serious danger of free coinage for the silvermen, and the bill should be acted upon as quickly as is consistent that the uncertainty may not disturb business conditions longer than necessary.

REVEREND HAMILTON, a Buffalo horse, has just made an eighth of a mile in 14 1/2 seconds, the swiftest speed ever attained by an equine. Kept up for a mile, this would cover the distance in 1:58, considerably less than the best time made by Mud S.—3:39 1/2. The speed might not be maintained for the whole distance, but it seems likely that the question, Can a horse trot a mile in less than two minutes? may possibly be answered in the affirmative.

Perhaps the most extraordinary article ever published upon "Hypnotism" will appear in the Cosmopolitan Magazine for August. It was secured from one of the two most celebrated professors of the art, the Frenchman, Dr. Mesmer, and the illustrations were secured by having a number of subjects taken to the photograph gallery of Mr. Kirt in New York, and there hypnotized under the camera by Donato himself. The illustrations show the very fair hypnotist in the act of hypnotizing a subject; the whole article makes plain a subject which is exciting much attention all over the world at this time. One who has not seen the facile movements of the hypnotist and the change which takes place in the victim under his apparently simple action, cannot for a moment comprehend the wonderful powers exercised. On the subject of the subject looks you in the eyes, talks to you as any other person; is in his right mind in every particular; the next, under a motion of the professor, his mind is as completely lost to his body as if his head had been cut off, and in this condition, subject to suggestions of the operator, remains until called to life by the hypnotist. Never before has a number of subjects been placed under the camera and operated upon in this way, and the article will doubtless be received with general interest throughout the country.

One who has not seen the facile movements of the hypnotist and the change which takes place in the victim under his apparently simple action, cannot for a moment comprehend the wonderful powers exercised. On the subject of the subject looks you in the eyes, talks to you as any other person; is in his right mind in every particular; the next, under a motion of the professor, his mind is as completely lost to his body as if his head had been cut off, and in this condition, subject to suggestions of the operator, remains until called to life by the hypnotist. Never before has a number of subjects been placed under the camera and operated upon in this way, and the article will doubtless be received with general interest throughout the country.

Teachers' State Certificate. School teachers of this State who are candidates to possess a State certificate will have an opportunity to take with the State examinations on August 25-26. Eight cities in the State have been designated where teachers may try the examinations, Syracuse being one of the number. When these examinations are successfully passed, it gives the candidate a life certificate to teach in any of the public schools of the State. The examinations are rigid and can only be passed by teachers who have mastered the twenty-two subjects in which the candidates are examined. Three consecutive years are allowed in which to pass the examination in all of the subjects. Candidates must have had two years of successful experience as teachers before entering upon the examinations and must also prove to be of good character. Circulars giving full information may be obtained of any school commissioner or superintendent.

The entries for cattle will be closed Saturday night before the fair, so that they may be properly checked, and stalls assigned them, thus materially adding to the display.

During the past year 20 new stalls have been added to the grounds, making 40 in all, in order that stock holders may be provided with stalls on the grounds.

Everything will be done for the convenience and accommodation of exhibitors, and no pains will be spared to make this the best fair for 1899. Entry blanks will accompany each premium list and extra ones will be furnished on application. Send for premium list to Dr. B. T. Mason, Phoenix, N. Y.

The new postal cards which will shortly be printed are of two sizes—an idea of the Postmaster General's—the bigger ones, which have twice the area of the present postal cards, being intended for business communications that cannot very well be crowded, and for other purposes demanding space. Both kinds have in the right hand upper corner, instead of the representation of a stamp, a small portrait of General Grant.

A letter received from Mrs. Howard dated July 9th, on board steamer Obidiah, and mailed from Boulogne, France, on the 10th, states that they had quite a rough voyage, and most everyone enjoyed the pleasure of sea sickness. The fourth was a gala day on board, having speeches, toasts, music and fireworks in the evening. The sea was calm and it was a continued round of pleasure. They had a very pleasant company and games and various methods of diversion were tried while the weather permitted. They arrived in Boulogne upon the Sea at 5 p. m., too late to take a train for Paris, and were happily situated in a beautiful hotel, Christol, where the letter was finished and posted.—Baldwinsville Gazette.

PRACTICALLY SETTLED.

The Village Soon to be Lighted Again by Electricity.

An understanding or agreement has at last been reached between the village trustees and the Electric Light Co., and it is probable that a special meeting of the Board will be held this evening and the lights ordered to be turned on. The contract is made for two years and eight months or until April 18 92. The village is to pay $34 per light per year for 48 lights, which brings the amount within the total that the Board has the right to use for such purpose. Two additional lights are to be used which makes the number the same as were used before they were shut off. The president of the village at the next charter election will recommend that the village appropriate a sum sufficient to cover the expense of these two additional lights at the same rate as is paid for the others. The Electric Light Co. agrees not to advance their present rates and to private lighting during the life of the contract.

The Pure Water Supply Co.

It is a well known fact that no water can be found superior in quality to that which comes from the Great Bear spring located south of this village, it being one of the sources from which Fulton gets its supply of excellent water. Several gentlemen realizing that there would be a demand for this aqua pura in near by cities, if it could be furnished them, a company has been formed and the title which heads this article was given the company. The members interested are F. A. Euerick, H. E. Nichols, Arthur Gilbert and Jno. H. Case, the latter gentleman being manager. The company has erected a building near the R. W. & O. depot 20 x 60 feet in which is a rack or turn table on which four dozen bottles can be placed at a time and filled with the Great Bear Spring water. Fifty gross of 7,200 six pint bottles have been ordered from Whitehall, Tatum & Co. of New York, large glass manufacturers, and twenty five gross have already been received. These bottles have glass stoppers and are shipped six bottles in a case. Beginning next week it is the intention to ship a carload a day to Syracuse where it will be delivered from house to house. Kynyon, Potter & Co. are agents for the company in that city. The citizens of Syracuse are to be congratulated on being able to secure this excellent water at the nominal figure at which it will be sold.

Monday's Fire.

At an alarm of fire Monday forenoon about 10 o'clock the fire department hustled out and as it struck the first ward Companies No. 1 and 2 rushed down First street, toward the Fulton Wooden Ware Works where the last two fires had been. It being still raining the street was very muddy and the firemen had a hard time to get down Wall street in the vicinity of the Fulton house. The fire was finally located and proved to be a small frame house on Fifth, between Buffalo and Academy streets, occupied by John Neubaum. It caught from the chimney. Mrs. Neubaum who is an invalid and blind was rescued and taken to the residence of Amos Youmans near by. Sharp hose and Johnson hose companies got streams on the fire and prevented the destruction of the house.

The Test Medium.

Thus says a reporter: "Mrs. Cooper has been in this city several weeks, giving sittings as a business test medium to the credulous as well as the incredulous. We have been a chronic skeptic on the subject of Spiritualism, but we must confess that she revealed facts to us that have astonished us as to past occurrences, and friends have informed that she foretells many events of the future that are equally marvelous. Mrs. C. is a lady of refinement and culture, and possesses a power that is bestowed on the fewest number of mortals. She has told some wonderful things that have set many who have consulted her, a question in his mind whether he was born to be an athlete or not, with a leaning toward the negative.

THE COMSTOCK GUN.

Prospects of a Stock Company in Oswego.

Mr. Harry Comstock of Fulton, who is interested in the organization of a stock company in this city for the purpose of manufacturing the Comstock gun, was in town to-day and will be here at the meeting to be held in the Mayor's office, City Hall, Tuesday night. Mr. Comstock was with the Remingtons of Illinois for 17 years. He proposes to manufacture his patent hammerless gun which sells at retail at from $25 to $50 each. In the United States there are 6,000 retail gun dealers and over fifty jobbers. Last year there were manufactured in this country about 15,

WORTH KNOWING.

Don't expect all the good qualities in one animal.

A successful breeder must be a good feeder. The rooster, too, are of little service. Let them go.

The secret of success in the poultry yard is not in hatching but in feeding.

Nothing on the farm pays better than a good garden. It furnishes fresh fruits and vegetables and promotes health.

Use earth as an absorbent in your poultry house, but be sure and clean out and renew it before it becomes foul.

Do not remain an obstruction in the path of progress, but try to keep abreast of the times. Then you will not get left, and farming will pay.

The wide-awake farmer visits other farms than his own. When he finds convenience, methods and crops better than at home it inspires him to greater effort.

It requires more nerve than most dairymen have to weed out their poor cows, because in very many cases they are the best looking cows in the dairy.

The cost of keeping ducks where the facilities are good is usually nominal, as a large portion of their daily fare is of the coarsest and cheapest kinds.

Statisticians Dodge estimates the value of the exports for 1927, at $589,000,000 at the seaports and at $400,000,000 on the farms. In other words, it cost one-quarter of their entire value to market them.

When the chickens are large enough to roost shut them in a house and teach them to stay there every night. They should never learn to roost in boxes or on fences.

There are several advantages in the keeping of large breeds of fowls. One is that they are more easily confined, and another is where you sell on the market they will bring more on account of their extra weight.

Trying to cultivate more land than can be properly attended to is like greedy boy trying to hold half a dozen apples in one hand or the hen trying to cover twice as many eggs as she can possibly keep warm.

Weeding Rye from Wheat.

In wheat growing localities rye is a weed, and an especially dangerous one to get among seed wheat. We have known, says Toronto Mail, some wheat growers who would not grow rye on any part of their farms, as it would get into the manure piles and spread to the wheat fields. Rye is much more hardy than wheat, and in bad seasons it increases. As its tall heads peer above the wheat, ten days or more before the latter heads out, there is ample time to go through the field with a sharp knife and cut out the intruder. It is curious to note the profligacy of rye when it has a good chance. Each bush of these weeds from a single grain, and each seedling will have from four or five to eight or more stalks with a well filled head, and altogether bearing often fifty to sixty times the number of the grains from which it sprung. As the farmer is doing this job he may well wonder why rye, as soon in the field for grain, does not yield at this rate, and whether he does not usually sow three or four times as much seed as would be needed if the plants were better manured and the soil better fitted.

The Chicken Crop.

Government statistics show that $20,000,000,000 are required to represent the annual expenditure for the chicken crop of the United States and that 15,000,000 dozen of eggs, worth $9,077,000, are imported in this country each year. Show me a wheat crop result that can touch those figures.

The expenditure in this country each year for poultry and eggs will amount to a much larger sum than that which comes to the credit of either the wheat crop, the cotton crop or the dairy product.—Interview in New York Star.

Two Wonderful Twins.

There are two young artisans of Bristol, named Johnson, who are twins, and between whom the similarity is far more remarkable than in Shakespeare's two Dromios even. Not only are they of the same height and weight, having the same colored hair, eyes and complexion, identical physical measurements, and feeding, walking, running, laughing, crying, singing and speaking alike, but they are of the same occupation, hold the same position, and have the same religious persuasion and likes and dislikes. More singular still, they have espoused very similar wives, and they have the same number of children, who are of the same sexes, three girls and three boys each.—London Graphic.

AT THEATERS.

The sun had kissed the waters wave, And had the world good-night. While in the sky the floating clouds Hung blushing at the sight.

The playful ripples dancing came From out the mighty sea. And passed a moment on the sands And kissed them tenderly.

The gentle evening breezes sighed Among the boudiers bare. And kissed their tresses away. And lingered fondly there.

A youth beside a maiden walked. (It told no wonderous deed.) When twilight's shadows kissed the shore, He followed Nature's lead.

Second Sight.

"This trick of second sight is easily explained," said a physician yesterday afternoon.

"How is that?" asked a friend.

"I refer to the well known performance of telling the date on a coin, the article held in the hand, etc., the medium being blindfolded at the time."

"It is done by means of a confederate."

"Not entirely. The most clever performers trust entirely to the memory, the words of the confederate, as he goes about the audience, being the cue to the proper article."

"I don't understand."

"It is like this: The first duty of the medium is to memorize a large list of articles, such as are usually found in an audience. This list is subdivided into one or two special groups, to assist the memory. A list of 200 articles will about cover all ordinary things found in a crowd. A series of catch words, representing the digits, is then decided upon. For illustration, the word 'wall' might mean '1,' '2,' '3,' '4,' '5,' '6,' '7,' '8,' '9,' '10,' '11,' '12,' '13,' '14,' '15,' '16,' '17,' '18,' '19,' '20,' '21,' '22,' '23,' '24,' '25,' '26,' '27,' '28,' '29,' '30,' '31,' '32,' '33,' '34,' '35,' '36,' '37,' '38,' '39,' '40,' '41,' '42,' '43,' '44,' '45,' '46,' '47,' '48,' '49,' '50,' '51,' '52,' '53,' '54,' '55,' '56,' '57,' '58,' '59,' '60,' '61,' '62,' '63,' '64,' '65,' '66,' '67,' '68,' '69,' '70,' '71,' '72,' '73,' '74,' '75,' '76,' '77,' '78,' '79,' '80,' '81,' '82,' '83,' '84,' '85,' '86,' '87,' '88,' '89,' '90,' '91,' '92,' '93,' '94,' '95,' '96,' '97,' '98,' '99,' '100.'"

"The operator now makes his speech, reciting the marvelous gift of second sight possessed by this seventh sister. He then goes into the crowd."

"What is this?" cries the confederate, seizing a hat from the head of an excited confederate.

"Of course 'What is this?' as explained above, means '3' and '2' means 'that.' In order not to make the conversation too stilted, there are catch words and phrases thrown in promiscuously, but in such a manner that the medium will not be misled."

"Well, I now, 3; what is this, 3, total 13."

"Keying," replies the medium.

"Correct you are; now will the lady be so kind as to tell me what is this key ring supporting?"

"Three keys."

"But," replied the friend who had listened to this interesting explanation, "could a person remember so many things as you suggest?"

"Why of course. The memory can be trained to almost marvelous accuracy. The great magician Harman can pass a window in a big bar, ask a name, and in a single glance, can turn around and tell you 300 or more of the articles he saw therein, their location, size, color, shape and other peculiarities. Do you see, as far as the system depends on memory, it may be made entirely successful."

Phosphates for Brain Workers.

Brain workers certainly need phosphorus. It is impossible to do brain work without them. About a dozen a day is required. Now as to best kinds, none of those which are advertised so widely, but phosphates which nature prepares in the various grains and in peas, beans, etc. Nature serves phosphates in a manner which can be assimilated. Prof. Waringer, of England, says that mineral phosphates are absorbed with great difficulty at best and only one grain out of a dose of twenty grains. But it is doubtful if mineral phosphates are as well assimilated as all, and if they are, they are many times more expensive than the good phosphates. A bottle of phosphate costing a dollar does not contain as much phosphorus as are found in a pound of oatmeal at five cents. So the best way to take a dose of phosphates is to take an extra whole wheat wafer or an extra spoonful of oatmeal mush. These are a great deal better than medicine.—Dr. J. H. Kellogg.

Gifts by Mr. Frederick Billings.

Mr. Billings, in addition to spending $40,000 in reconstructing the Congregational Church at Woodstock and giving $50,000 to the University of Vermont for the endowment of a library bearing his name, has given $50,000 to Amherst College to endow a professorship in memory of his son Parmley Billings, who was graduated there in 1884, and $50,000 to Mr. Moody's Mount Hermon school for boys, to be known as the "Ehrick Endowment fund." In memory of his son Ehrick. All these gifts were made by checks payable at once to the full amount, and were not accompanied by any embarrassing conditions, but were bestowed in that large and generous spirit which has characterized all Mr. Billings' benefactions. The latest tidings from Woodstock as to Mr. Billings' condition are decidedly favorable.—Burlington (Vt.) Free Press.

New York State Fair.—Close of Entries.

Our attention is called to the fact that entries for the Semi-Centennial State Fair at Syracuse, Sept. 11-15, will be accepted at this date.

This is necessary that the society may have time to get the catalogue out in time for the opening of the fair.

The magnificent new buildings which will be ready for the opening, and the very liberal prizes offered, should call out the largest exhibition ever got together in this state.

It is a very good plan to get something ready and taking the boys along, go to the fair and make a show. It greatly encourages the boys, and stimulates them to a higher appreciation of your calling, to think that they have something good enough to show at a State Fair, and even if you should fail to win a prize you will find it amply repays you to make the trial, and if you succeed: My! but want you continue to feel good over it for the whole year. Yes, it pays to try; so send to the Secretary, at Albany, and get a prize list and make your entries—and don't get left.

Carriages and Carts in great variety and styles at Bristol's. Prices very low.

Must be sold. More than one hundred new Watches, and the whole stock of Jewelry, and to do this these (times) will not sell at Jewelers' prices but at about your own price. Call and see how much you can save by buying at No. 6, First street, at Draper's.

THE TIMES and the New England Mercury are for sale at $1.00. The TIMES and the Mercury are for sale at $1.00. Both great offers. Call or send your order, accompanied by cash, to this office. Ten cents extra where THE TIMES goes out of Oswego county.

The best game of the season at Pathfinder Island was that of last week when the Pathfinder nine attempted to knock out the Gun Works nine. They failed in the attempt although they played a good game of ball. The Gun Works have a good nine. The battery work of Depot and Watson, the last base playing of Ryther, the swift and accurate throwing of Grouse, the safe batting of Mosher and a fine catch by Burden in left field were the features of their playing. The following tells the story:

Friends and neighbors gave Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Martin a surprise last evening. They were invited out to a neighbor's to meet friends that were expected from out of town and on an hour's time the "surprises" had not only taken possession of their house on Cayuga street but had set the table and prepared a big "lay out" in the line of refreshments. It was Mr. and Mrs. Martin's third wedding anniversary and their friends did not propose to let it pass unobserved.

The Hottest Place on Earth.

The hottest place on earth is on the south-western coast of Persia, where Persia borders the gulf of the same name. For forty consecutive days in the months of July and August the thermometer has been known not to fall lower than 100° night or day, and to often run up as high as 120° in the afternoon. At Bahrin, in the centre of the torrid belt, as though it were Nature's intention to make the region as unbearable as possible no water can be obtained from digging wells 100, 200 or even 500 feet deep, yet a comparatively numerous population contrive to live there, thanks to copious springs which break forth from the bottom of the gulf more than a mile from shore. The water from these springs is obtained by divers, who dive to the bottom and fill goatskin bags with the cooling liquid and sell it for a living. The source of these submarine fountains is thought to be in the green hills of Oman, some 500 or 600 miles away.—Public Opinion.

The official rough count as announced by the census bureau shows the population of Chicago to be 1,099,726. This is an increase during the decade of 595,391, or 118.32 per cent. This shows that Chicago has a population of about 59,992 in excess of Philadelphia, and is therefore the second city in population in the United States.

Very Rev. John Henry Cardinal Newman, D. D., died at London Sunday in his 90th year. Cardinal Newman had an eventful career, and friends and foes alike assign him the position of one of the great leaders of modern thought. His life and writings constitute an era in the history of a considerable part of the English-speaking race.

Recent estimates of the population prepared from the enumerator's postal card reports show the total population of the United States as about 64,000,000, without the inhabitants of state prisons, insane asylums and similar institutions. These will probably bring the total up to about 66,000,000. The unofficial first count of the State of New York shows 5,909,003, which will probably be increased to 6,000,000 by the time the official count is complete.

The first test of the electrical execution law occurred at Auburn prison on Wednesday last, when Kemmer, the Buffalo murderer was put to death. There is a wide difference of opinion concerning the success of this new method of capital punishment and there are many who hasten to condemn the new law and declare that it should be repealed at once. This version that is taken in the great extent due to writings of the execution that are of a sensational order and to the fact that the attending physicians have shown more jealousy than judgment, and are now throwing hot shot at each other, instead of formulating an accurate and intelligent account of the execution.

The first shock given to the murderer was continued about 15 seconds. Two minutes after the current was cut off there was evidence of respiration. As soon as possible the current was again turned on and continued for several minutes, the flesh was burned and the whole must have presented a sickening spectacle. There was burning work or misadventure somewhere, but it is probably true that Kemmer ceased to be conscious the instant the electric current reached him. The Buffalo physicians declare that death was instantaneous, "that the supposed instant of respiration was but a twitching of uncles and was no evidence of life whatever." Who shall decide when doctors disagree? We do not think the new law will be repealed until another trial is made.

LAST Friday night nearly all the Rights of Labor conductors, engineers, trainmen, brakemen, and switchmen employed by the New York Central and Hudson river railroad, except those necessary to continue the mail service, stopped work in obedience to orders from their headquarters. The strike was ordered because the railroad company had discharged several men who were prominent Knights of Labor, the company claiming that this is their full season and for that reason they were reducing their force. The Knights however claim that they were discharged because they were active men in their organization. Whether employers or employees are right the strike is to be regretted as it causes a loss not only to those concerned but to thousands that are not directly interested in the trouble. It practically paralyzes business in a large section, caused vexatious delays and heavy losses to many in no way responsible for the trouble. Friday night, Saturday, Sunday and part of Monday practically no freight or passenger trains moved over the great New York Central road.

The encouraging feature of the strike is the fact that no deeds of lawlessness have been committed.

At our annual school meeting Dr. F. L. Harter was unanimously elected trustee. The necessary means for conducting the school for the ensuing year was unanimously voted, including the additional salary for another teacher. The furnishing of the new school building was left to the discretion of the Board of Education. The building is progressing rapidly and will be ready for next term of school. The building and furnishing will cost about $1,300. Its site is 85 by 30 feet, and annexed to the present building and becomes a part of it.

Our town is divided into two election districts. The town hall is no divided as to be in both election districts, and the election will be held there for both districts. It will be noticed that the present law very effectively prevents independent voters, Prohibitionists and Labor party men from being inspectors of election, however competent they may be. How do our Prohibition brethren of Volney and Granby like this feature of the law? Our observation has convinced us that there are no better people in the county, people who stand high morally and intellectually, than Prohibitionists. Yet they are legislated by a certain class of individuals so they cannot have the power to handle the ballots of their fellow citizens as well as others. We presume that Prohibitionists will feel that they would be willing to vote men out of office who legislate or outvote them out of office.

Haying is nearly finished and it is above an average crop. The prospects are that potatoes will be of a good quality, but there will be but few in a field. There is no fruit to speak of except blackberries.

On Friday, Aug. 15, 1890, the Parish Grange will have a basket picnic in Pickett's grove near the village. If unpleasant it will be held at the town hall. Every Granger may consider himself or herself especially invited to attend. Good speaking is expected.

Mount Pleasant.
(Special Correspondence to The Times.)

This community has sustained another severe loss in the death of Mr. Aaron Wright. He died on the morning of August 3, peacefully in his child, after a short respite from the painful suffering of many months. His funeral was held in the Methodist Episcopal church on the afternoon of August 4th, and the very large congregation in attendance attested the high esteem in which he was held. After addresses by Revs. J. J. Bartholomew of Volney, and E. Everett, of Mount Pleasant, his remains were borne by loving hands to the beautiful cemetery near by. Mr. Wright was left a widower in 1875, since which time he resided till his death with his second son, Mr. Samuel Wright, near the Hawks school house. About fifty-six years ago he removed from Columbia, Herkimer county, N. Y., his birthplace. During all the intervening years he remained in this town, respected and honored by a large circle of friends. The deceased leaves four children, two sons and two daughters to mourn the loss of a loving father. They inherit from him the best of legacies, a life of Christian integrity. Their loving administration in his sickness are no longer needed. In the land where there is no sickness he awaits there coming. There shall be an eternal reunion.

The Strike a Failure.
The strike on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad appears to be a failure. The railroad officials announce the complete resumption of passenger and freight service, and the number applying for work indicates that there is no lack of men sufficiently skilled for the service needed. The railroad should thus quickly recover from the blow struck Friday evening is not a matter for surprise. Nearly all the striking employees were engaged in work which can be learned readily, and therefore their places could be filled easily from the ranks of men throughout the country idle, yet willing to labor. The strikers expected that, if necessary for their success, the engineers and firemen would join them. No doubt a strike of these skilled employees would have serious consequences, but it did not bring success to the strikers. But Chief Arthur of the locomotive broomed and Chief Sargeant of the firemen's brotherhood say their organizations are in no way interested in the dispute, and this means that they will not go out. Possibly some of the strikers will be taken back, but there are many who will be left in idleness just at the time when they should be earning something to provide comforts for the winter. Under the circumstances the strikers must acknowledge that the movement was ill-advised.—Troy Times.

The Single Tax.
Why We Urge It
BY HENRY COOPER.

I shall briefly state to the readers of The Christian Advocate the fundamental principles of what we advocate: it is the single tax.

We propose to abolish all taxes save one single tax levied on the value of land, irrespective of the value of improvements on or in it.

What we propose is not a tax on real estate, for real estate includes improvements. Nor is it a tax on land, for we would not tax all land, but only land having a value irrespective of its improvements, and would tax that in proportion to that value.

Our plan involves the imposition of a new tax, since we already tax land values in taxing real estate. To carry it out we have only to abolish all taxes save the tax on real estate, and to abolish all of that which now falls on buildings or improvements, leaving only that part of it which now falls on the value of the bare land, increasing that tax to take as nearly as may be the whole of economic rent, or what is sometimes styled the "unearned increment of land values."

That the value of the land alone would suffice to provide all needed public revenues—municipal, county, state and national—there is no doubt. To show briefly why we urge this change, let me treat (1) of its expediency, and (2) of its justice.

From the single tax we may expect these advantages:

1. It would dispense with a whole army of tax-gatherers and other officials which present taxes require, and place in the treasury a much larger proportion of what is taken from the people, while, by making government simpler and cheaper, it would tend to make it purer. It would get rid of taxes which necessarily promote fraud, bribery and corruption, which lead men into temptation, and which tax what the nation can least afford to spare—honesty and conscience. Since land is the basis of all wealth, it is the most movable, and its value is the most readily ascertained of all values, the tax to which we would resort can be collected with the minimum of cost and the least strain on public morals.

2. It would enormously increase the production of wealth.

1. By the removal of the burdens now weigh upon industry and thrift. If we tax houses, there will be fewer and poorer houses; if we tax machinery, there will be less machinery; if we tax trade, there will be less trade; if we tax capital, there will be less capital; if we tax savings, there will be less saving. All the taxes therefore that we would abolish are taxes that depress industry and lessen wealth. But if we tax land values there will be no loss of land.

2. On the contrary, the taxation of land values has the effect of making land more easily available by industry, since it makes it more difficult for owners of valuable land which they themselves do not care to use to hold it for a larger future price. While the abolition of taxes on labor and the products of labor would free the active element of production, the taking of land values in taxation would free the passive element by destroying speculative land values, and preventing the holding out of use of land needed for use. If any one will but look around to-day and see the unused or half-used land, the idle labor, the unemployed or poorly employed capital, he will get some idea of how enormous would be the production of wealth were all the forces of production free to engage.

3. The taxation of the processes and products of labor on the one hand, and the insufficient taxation of land values on the other, produces an unjust distribution of wealth which is building up in the hands of a few fortunes more monstrous than the world has ever before seen, while the masses of our people are steadily becoming relatively poorer. These taxes necessarily produce a more heavily than on the rich, by increasing prices, they necessitate larger capital in all businesses, and consequently give an advantage to large capitalists; and they give, and in some cases are designed to give, special advantages and monopolies to combinations and trusts. On the other hand, the insufficient taxation of land values enables men to make large fortunes by land speculation and the increase in ground values—fortunes which do not represent any addition by them to the general wealth of the community, but merely the appropriation by some of what the labor of others create.

This unjust distribution of wealth develops on the one hand a class idle and wasteful because they are too poor to desire more capital and opportunities which would make them more efficient producers. It thus greatly diminishes production.

4. The unjust distribution which is giving us the hundred-fold millionaire on the one side and the tramp and pauper on the other generates all kinds, and requires large expenditures of money and energy in wealth-men, policemen, courts, prisons, and other means of defense and repression. It kindles a greed of gain and a worship of wealth, and produces a bitter struggle for existence which fosters drunkenness, increases insanity, and causes men whose energies ought to be devoted to honest production to spend their time and strength in cheating and grabbing from each other. Besides the moral loss, all this involves an enormous economic loss which the single tax would save.

5. The taxes we would abolish fall most heavily on the poorer agricultural districts, and thus tend to drive population and wealth from them to great cities. The tax we would impose would destroy that tendency, for land which is the great source of wealth is the great source of population which is spreading, going far and near to settle in more fertile lands, and thus to increase the wealth of the nation.

Fire at Oswego Falls.

The coal office of F. E. Rice, at Lower Oswego Falls was destroyed by fire Monday forenoon. Owing to the fact that the chief of the Oswego

Falls Fire Department had ordered the companies not to use fire hy-drants, there was a delay in getting a stream. The village is under a five years contract with the Water Works

Co. for the use of the hydrants but at their last charter election the appropriation for paying for the same was voted down as it was also at a subsequent special election. It be-

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of a dense crowd of people, likely at a political rally or protest. The image is heavily stylized, with the crowd appearing as a solid mass of white and grey against a dark background. The top of the image shows the silhouettes of people's heads and shoulders, while the bottom is mostly black, suggesting a dark foreground or a very dense crowd.

club house, Oswego Falls, Aug. 25.

Norm. Cooper stopped a few days while on his way home from Boston.

A genial visit was the result.

Teeth were sharpened on chicken pie and other tooth surprises.

The women did nobly as usual and received hearty thanks. About 8 p. m.

Capt. O. J. Jennings brought order in the ranks, and Cooper had to tell about the Boston campment and how the "Babe" gobbled him when he was shot, and how glad he was to see out of his comrades again. "Tom"

Colos gave thanks to Geo. F. Meigs for aiding him when he was wounded.

Meigs had also been very kind to the previous speaker while prisoners together. W. J. Penelope told how near he came to capturing the rebel cavalry. Rube Terpening gave an account of his experience at Bull

Run and other battles.

He was visibly affected while relating his sorrow over the death of Lieut.

Pawling and the wounding of Cooper, who was missing after the battle.

A committee was appointed to get up another picnic for '91, and Co. H. is invited to join. O. J. Jennings, T.

THE STATE FAIR. The State Fair has had a hard time of it last week, but this week, large crowds in attendance, are reported. It holds over until Friday morning. Chauncey Dewey addressed the people on the grounds yesterday, on the agricultural question. He reached Syracuse Thursday and stayed until today, being driven about the city during his visit. Dr. Chauncey still captures the hearts of the people.

THE GRANT MONUMENT. The Grant Monument committee have finally accepted a design from the many that were submitted to them. It will be a slightly structure, visible from the Hudson river north and south and from the city on the east. The monument will be 100 feet high with a colossal equestrian statue in front. The lower part will be of the Doric style of architecture and the upper Ionic—both somewhat modernized. When complete it will bear a resemblance to the tomb of Napoleon in the Hotel des Invalides. The design of the architect has been to produce a monument that will be impressive; in his own words one that will cause "a tomb like massive feeling." There will be a large memorial hall suitable for patriotic gatherings; at the end of this is a crypt, which is to be of white granite and open. The dome rises 100 feet above the floor of the memorial hall. The base is 100 feet square exclusive of the approaches. Above the Doric columns there will be statues of four of Grant's Major Generals. There is provision made for decoration. The design is so arranged that the monument or tomb will present a completed appearance at several stages of the work. The main part can be built for $100,000 which amount the committee already has. The estimated cost when complete is half a million.

OSWEGO FALLS. There was a lively contest at the Democratic caucus, Saturday afternoon. Both factions are represented on the district delegates. The following delegates were elected: District—Patrick Powers, James Gilhooly, Fred Somerville, Norris Miller, Jay Harrington, Marvin Thompson, Daniel McNease, Jr. County—Jay Harrington, C. F. Coyd, Jay Carroll, Daniel Sullivan, Timothy Jones, Frank Miller, J. R. Sullivan.

At the special election held Friday afternoon the resolution to raise $1,200 to pay for the water works was passed by a vote of 67 to 46. The following are the polling places in this town: District No. 1, House of Wm. Monro. District No. 2, Johnstone Hall. District No. 3, McGee Hall. District No. 4, Crony's Police Justice's office. Thomas O'Brien made 19 entries of fowls at the Oswego fair and took seventeen premiums. Messrs. Wither, Ferris and Dexter, took eleven premiums from twelve exhibits.—Observer.

D. H. Gilbert, Secretary of the Oswego Falls Fair Association, was in town last Saturday. He reports the prospects flattering for a successful exhibit this fall if the weather proves favorable.—Baldwinville Gazette.

Dr. Wither is smiling over the birth of a daughter, now comes congratulations versus cigars. H. H. Merriam is building a large brick carriage. Mrs. Dr. Ballard and daughters are visiting friends in Rochester. Mrs. Belle Wright is giving instructions on the Banjo to a class in Phoenix.

Owing to the scarcity of ice in this place, Albert Dexter is about $35.00 out by meat and lard spoiling last week. Miss Elva Billings of Smyrna is visiting at her brothers E. S. Billings. Miss Floss J. Baker has just received a new line of fall and winter millinery. George Margory has a fine new cement walk in front of his residence on Mrs. E. M.

Mrs. E. M. Baker was the recipient of six baskets of very fine varieties of grapes from her sister, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell, Lawton, Van Buren Co., Michigan. Last week Lawton Boardley's little boy fell from a swing and broke his collar bone. Dr. Wells attended him. Mr. Dillback, who lives near Moss Grove, died this morning. Mrs. W. W. Stoddard of New Hampshire presided in the Congregational church last Sunday. A number of Oswego Falls people attended the State Fair Sunday. E. M. Baker, who is at the North Woods with a party of 5, shot the first deer the next morning after arriving at camp. Winfield Tait and Wm. Moore returned from the North Woods Sunday. E. M. Baker and Margory Stoddard are expected some time this week. Mrs. J. W. Stoddard has been visiting at her home in Phoenix.

THE STATE FAIR. The State Fair has had a hard time of it last week, but this week, large crowds in attendance, are reported. It holds over until Friday morning. Dr. Chauncey still captures the hearts of the people.

THE GRANT MONUMENT. The Grant Monument committee have finally accepted a design from the many that were submitted to them. It will be a slightly structure, visible from the Hudson river north and south and from the city on the east. The monument will be 100 feet high with a colossal equestrian statue in front. The lower part will be of the Doric style of architecture and the upper Ionic—both somewhat modernized. When complete it will bear a resemblance to the tomb of Napoleon in the Hotel des Invalides. The design of the architect has been to produce a monument that will be impressive; in his own words one that will cause "a tomb like massive feeling." There will be a large memorial hall suitable for patriotic gatherings; at the end of this is a crypt, which is to be of white granite and open. The dome rises 100 feet above the floor of the memorial hall. The base is 100 feet square exclusive of the approaches. Above the Doric columns there will be statues of four of Grant's Major Generals. There is provision made for decoration. The design is so arranged that the monument or tomb will present a completed appearance at several stages of the work. The main part can be built for $100,000 which amount the committee already has. The estimated cost when complete is half a million.

Some lives are like Mors shoes
the more worn the brighter Busy wives who use SAPOLIO never seem to grow old. Try a cake.

A complete wreck of domestic happiness has often resulted from badly washed dishes, from an unclean kitchen, or from trifles which seemed light as air. But by these things a man often judges of his wife's devotion to her family, and charges her with general neglect when he finds her careless in these particulars. Many a home owes a large part of its thrifty neatness and its consequent happiness to SAPOLIO.

As grocers often substitute cheaper goods for SAPOLIO, to make a better profit, send back each article, and insist on having just what you ordered.

Moral Cowards of Women.
Take a seat at a popular dress counter in any one of the large dry goods stores of New York, and in the space of one hour you do not see and hear ten unblatant provocations it will be because there is a lack, the season is over or the weather out of joint. Of every twenty shoppers who stop at the counter to examine the goods, perhaps fifty will retire with a little falsehood on her lips. Either she will "come in again," "send her dressmaker to buy it," "come right back" when she picks out a wrap or looks over another line of cloth, or "think about it and send you a postcard."

Not one woman in a thousand has the bravery to say, "I don't like it," or "It is too expensive." They don't seem to understand that it is nothing to the salesman whether she takes it or not, that he is paid to show the goods, and that as a patron of the store she is entitled to command his services. By great numbers the few who do not buy, are the moral cowards of the semi-educated class that they will take a dress pattern, have it sent home O. D., only to be returned by the delivery clerk marked "not wanted" or "not wanted."

—New York World.

We Are Not to Blame.
In a family, too, we often find a girl censured and ridiculed because she is excitable and flighty, or a boy perpetually nagged and slighted because of his shyness and stupidity. A diseased nervous system or a slow moving brain are qualities which no man or woman is responsible.

"It is not," says Madame de Sevigne, "for the things which God has given me that I should be loved or hated, but for my own use or abuse of them."—Yonah's Companion.

Quits: Another Question.
"Dum," said Harry, tenderly, "how soon will you marry me?"
"Oh, in about three years," replied Clara cheerfully.

"I asked you how soon, not in how long," complained Harry.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Cheese Markets.
AT NEW YORK.
Matters progressed quietly on the board of trade until 6 p. m. to day, when it became evident that there was some strife between two operators over a few of the best factories. The strife ran these lots up 1/2 c. above the general line of choice goods, but did not seem to affect the market. On an average the stock is now sold down to the middle of that month. It is understood that quality is all right, and the cheese is being taken by both shippers and house trade. Buyers hardly seem to make of the market prices paid to day, and suspect that there may be some speculative movement in progress. If there is, the course of the market during the coming week will probably develop. Quotations are as follows:

| Lot | Boxes | Price |
|-----|-------|-------|
| 1 | 1,000 | 85c |
| 2 | 1,000 | 85c |
| 3 | 1,000 | 85c |
| 4 | 1,000 | 85c |

Young Men's Christian Association.
In beginning our Fall and Winter work, we are endeavoring and planning to make our rooms as attractive as possible. Because of our past experience of our past experience we feel assured that the people of this community will support us to the extent of their individual means for the furtherance of the cause of young men, and therefore, when we name a few articles and bring a bare which would help in adding to the present attractiveness of the rooms, it is, feeling that the announcement will meet with a hearty response. The presentation of three or four units would save the expense of a new carpet for our reading room.

We purpose urging our Reading Room and Library more prominently forward, and therefore, ask that all friends who can, will donate illustrated and other papers, or magazines, or any books which may be lying on shelves, not being used, such as works of history, travel, biography, etc., that would in good reading for any young man.

The table in our parlor would be more attractive if covered, and also less likely to get rubbed.

There are other little items in mind, but we will refer to them later. Now if you cannot donate any, or all of the above named, perhaps you can make a small one, or more, in fact, by rate, before deciding negatively call at the Association rooms and consult the Secretary as to your wishes. "It is more blessed to give than receive."

Mr. H. E. Nichols leads our young men's meeting next Sunday afternoon, and will be assisted in discussion, "Temperance" in its different phases, by other of our leading business and professional men. Special music, special singing and a special invitation to be present. Come.

THE SLOWING

There is a slowing coming reports of a slow crop. An actual report from the farm will not introduce disease there. Boiling water destroys the germs of disease which it contains. By weight, ducks will lay more eggs during the year than hens. Change the feeding coops for the young poultry every few days. Summer following, as it used to be practiced, is a foolish thing. There is scarcely any danger of giving too much variety of food. As nearly as possible, follow a line of farming that suits you best. As far as possible, own your tools and keep them in good condition. The culture of grapes is on the increase in Canada. Grapes are being more largely grown at the South than ever before. Don't be afraid of keeping your dairy stable too clean and parlor-like. Composting manure reduces bulk and saves in the amount of handling. It is economy to mix almost any kind of nitrogenous food with corn, corn fodder or silage. There is nothing better than ground oats for young colts, calves or pigs, if judiciously fed. Do not borrow money unless you can make it bring you a larger per cent. than you pay. Select breeding stock first for health and vigor; second, for early maturity and early fattening. For growing colts, corn is too fattening; oats are best to secure a development of bone and muscle. Permanent improvement is only secured by great care in the selection of the breeding animals. English steamers are bringing into New York thousands of packages of Spanish and Egyptian onions. It is by saving everything that can be utilized as feed, that the keeping of the most stock is possible. In sowing grass seed it is quite an item to get the seed distributed as evenly as possible. Try a good drill. Phylloxera threatens Champagne, France, from which wine districts comes the Champagne wines. It is told that there are 10,000 acres of land devoted to tomatoes in New Jersey, and seventy-three counties to take them. The total number of cotton mills in the South now, according to the Secretary of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, is 336, with 40,810 looms and 1,819,201 spindles. In Ohio fruit is reported less than half a crop.

MANAGERS

Fixed and permanent managers as a general rule save time and labor in feeding stock. All animals should have low managers, otherwise the muscles of the neck become stiff or contracted by the non-use of natural exercise. This is most readily observable in race horses and stallions which are confined in stalls. For such, a tub or box should be used and removed from the stall immediately after feeding. But the advantage of a movable food trough is found in the case of animals which have a discharge from the nostrils, as the solid feed vessels can be more readily and completely cleaned. Horses long confined in the cities, whose working lives are spent in severe confinement in cramped stalls with high hay racks and feed boxes, when released from lanes or injury are sent in the country to pasture for recovery or recuperation, suffer severe pain in grazing. If this is not soon discovered, the horse is returned to the owner in a half-starved condition, and the poor beast is a fit subject for the prevention of cruelty to animals.—American Agriculturist.

FEEDING SWINE

This is a matter of interest at the present season, and one which is worthy of more attention than is usually accorded it by farmers. Too little attention is given to variety in feeding not only pigs but other animals. A swine breeder, while urging that corn is the principal food for hogs, says that it is not the proper feed for swine at all times during their life, but should only be fed in connection with other feeds, such as wheat middlings, barley and roots and skimmed milk, as the mixed feed not only produces a healthy hog, but generally improves the quality of the meat producing a much harder, finer grained meat, and much more lean meat to fat. He adds that with him wheat middlings is of more value in feeding hogs than corn, and there is no time during their life when wheat is not part of their food.—N. Y. Witness.

THE SPEED OF A HORSE

While the public is still marveling over Salator's wonderful performance in running a mile in 1:33, there are few who have, through comparison and analysis, sought to realize what a terrific burst of speed this is. It is nearly forty miles an hour—a rate averaged by very few of our fastest teams. There are 5,280 feet in a mile, so that for every one of these ninety-five seconds—for every beat of a man's pulse—this wonderful horse covered 58.5 feet of ground. The shortest space of time noted by the turfman's watch is a quarter of a second—an interval so brief that the eye can hardly observe, the mind can hardly appreciate it. Yet in every one of these 98.75 quarters of a second, the horse's feet have traveled a distance of 14.64 feet. Such are the amazing results of careful breeding, as exhibited in the American race horse. In the human race improving in the same ratio. Soberly.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE SPEED OF A HORSE

By a change of 5,000,000 places of value, the money in circulation every day is increased tenfold, and that means a new era in the money market.

THE NEW TARIFF BILL
The new tariff bill went into effect Monday. Goods were received up to 12 o'clock midnight, under the old schedule. There were a great many very exciting incidents during the past week and many minds anxious about delayed vessels. The last entry was made by Captain Haines of the Steamship Euribia, one of the "unhappies" and the story of his race to enter in time is fully recorded in our columns. The tugboat Fletcher had been chartered to meet the big liner at quarantine and convey Captain Haines to the custom house. There was an anxious crowd of brokers and commission merchants at the custom house, for there would be a difference of $45,000 against them if the invoice were not in time. The tugboat, Captain Miller in charge, reached the big steamer at quarantine at 11 o'clock p. m. The rest is told in the New York World of October 6.

THE SITUATION EXPLAINED.
Mail Agent Smith rushed to the house of the Fletcher when within halting distance of the tugboat and called to Captain Haines a brief explanation of the situation at the Custom House and what a figure he would be in the McKinley bill. The captain didn't hesitate an instant. He dashed down the bridge stairs, and as he reached the bottom he called to the tugboat, "The Fletcher is here." The tugboat, Captain Miller in charge, reached the big steamer at quarantine at 11 o'clock p. m. The rest is told in the New York World of October 6.

Mail Agent Smith rushed to the house of the Fletcher when within halting distance of the tugboat and called to Captain Haines a brief explanation of the situation at the Custom House and what a figure he would be in the McKinley bill. The captain didn't hesitate an instant. He dashed down the bridge stairs, and as he reached the bottom he called to the tugboat, "The Fletcher is here." The tugboat, Captain Miller in charge, reached the big steamer at quarantine at 11 o'clock p. m. The rest is told in the New York World of October 6.

The Dairy Question Box

(From Orange County Farmer)

The following questions were asked and answered at the dairy school, at Amherst, N. Y.

What is butter fat?

Mr. Curtis: It is a fat alone found in milk, and is the solid most valuable part. Milk is secreted from the blood, and the process is a mysterious one, not fully understood by scientists. Butter fat is the fat that alone makes butter.

What causes the inequality in the price of butter and cheese, when it requires nearly three times as much milk for a pound of butter as for one of cheese?

Mr. C.—It should not require but twice and one half the pounds of milk for butter as for cheese. Supply and demand are causes; another cause is the greater proportionate amount of poor butter than cheese. And another is the fact that the price in the general market.

How does a cow pay back her milk?

Mr. C.—By physical force. She gives her stomach up and at the same time compresses all the milk ducts, closing them so the milk can not flow. Nervous excitement will cause her to withhold her milk.

How does rough treatment of cows cause a decrease in their milk production?

Mr. C.—It produces nervous excitement, which arrests the natural processes of nature. Fright interrupts her normal condition, thus causing a shrinkage in her flow of milk.

Will excessive wet weather cause a decrease in the quality of butter?

Mr. C.—Yes. Last summer less butter was made from the same milk than was made the year before, because the pasture food of the cows was less nutritious.

Why do cows require more shelter now than they did years ago?

Mr. C.—They are more delicate now than they were then, are as a rule better fed, finer in constitution, and the climate changes are greater and more extreme.

Is there any difference in the richness of a cow's milk as she grows older, and does she require more nutritious food?

Mr. C.—I think that, up to a period of perfection it is the same. When she becomes older she is not able to do as much work, just as old people are not able to do as much. Their food, as they grow older, should contain more albuminoids, which not only keep up the per coat of butter in the milk, but furnish material for the supply of muscle and blood, both much needed by old animals and aged people as well.

What is the best food for cows for butter making?

Mr. B.—Clover hay, corn silage, corn meal, cotton seed meal, linseed meal, wheat bran and wheat middlings. Clover hay is almost a perfect food; when the weather is wet a cow needs something else, also in dry time. Hot weather, too, affects their food.

Will cows kept in the stables make harder butter than will cows that run in pasture?

Mr. Gilbert—That depends upon the quality of their food in the stable and quality of the pasture for which.

What causes a cow to lose her milk?

Mr. C.—Sickness. When her normal condition is disturbed, sometimes she does not raise her food to be assimilated. The natural conditions are arrested for awhile; when they return, or she is relieved of her sickness, she will raise her milk and the milk does not with the milk containing the food.

In a herd of cows, will they all produce the same results on the same food?

Mr. C.—No. Every cow has her individuality. They are not alike constructed. Some cows use more food in support of nervous energy. Nervous animals usually require more food because they have more wasted energy.

How often should cows be salted?

Mr. C.—Every day. Salt aids digestion; it also neutralizes gas which may generate in the stomach, thus aiding digestion.

Will salted cream prevent it from becoming bitter?

Mr. C.—What made the butter so coarse when you removed it from the churn? It was gathered a little too much.

Why are the cans better than common milk pans? For this reason: Neatly prepared cream can be obtained in them, and only one dish to wash.

Will butter keep as well colored as when uncolored? No time will develop chemical changes in the color, which is a foreign substance and all foreign substances injure butter sooner or later.

Why should cream be churned to a higher degree of temperature in winter than in summer? It is more viscous, thicker.

Which will give the best results in cream a pan filled or half filled with milk? The pan that is but half filled. Fill a pan half full of milk, then add another third of water. Set the milk at 90° or as nearly so as you can, and have the water as cold as you can get it. More and quicker creaming will result.

Does a cow require the same kind of grain in warm and cold weather? More carbohydrate food should be given in cold weather to keep up the supply of animal heat in the body.

THEY ARE LIABLE

The doctors are all liable to be misled. When they were in my case, I sent the $200.00, because they said I had the heart disease, and then told me that the heart disease was not there. I am now well, and I am a better man than I was before.

Food for the cows to build up the waiting bone and supply phosphate for the milk. No food is better for these purposes.

Reef cattle and sheep are less in number than two years ago, and with the short grain crops beef and pork must command fair prices.

In Maine the sweet-corn crop is good, and if frosts hold off the peak of canned corn will be large. The ears are unusually well filled out.

The nearer the corn is cut at the right stage the better quality of feed it will make and the more stock can be kept in proportion to the acreage.

If your corn is immature, it is better to wilt it a little before putting it into the silo; if in proper condition to cut—that is beginning to glaze—it needs no wilting.

Good stable manure, well distributed, is the best fertilizer for pasture lands. If an artificial fertilizer is used it is better applied when the seed is sown. When naturally fertile enough to yield a good crop of grass, land will not only maintain its fertility under pasture, but, especially when pastured by sheep, will gradually improve.

Selecting Seed Potatoes. The importance of selecting seed at the time of harvesting, when not only the appearance of the seed itself but also the healthfulness and vigor of the plant on which it grew can be observed as a guide, has more than once been mentioned as deserving the attention of farmers. Such selections, when made, have usually been of grains or of the seeds of garden vegetables and not of the tubers grown in the ground. Yet it is the knowledge of every observing farmer that in digging a row of potatoes where the seed and cultivation of all the hills was the same in every respect, it is very common to find a great diversity in the product of hills where uniformity might be expected. One hill will be found with tubers uniformly large and fair, while the one next to it may be perhaps only half as productive as to weight and contain a larger proportion of unmarketable sizes. Such instances would seem to afford opportunities for seed selection that might advantageously be improved by selecting at the digging from the productive hills and not from the potato bin in the spring.

An instance of the results of such a selection is given in a paper read by Prof. E. S. Coff before a Wisconsin farmers' institute. As related, seed was selected from ten of the best and most productive hills, each hill from a different variety on the testing ground, also from ten hills of the same varieties that had the smallest number of marketable tubers. When cut from seed the tubers from the most productive hills yielded the most in every instance. The yield of the smallest tuber from the most productive hill was more than that of the largest tuber from the least productive hill. Calculated on the single acre method, tubers taken from the largest hills yielded on the average something more than thirty-two bushels per acre more than those from the least productive hills. N. Y. World.

Handling Seed Clover. It is a mistake to put seed clover in the barn. Hauling the clover makes a dust so very fine and penetrating, that in spite of all that can be done, the barn will be badly fouled. On this account the workman doing their work around uncleanable if it must be done where the air is in the least confined. The better place for hulling is in the centre of the field on which the clover may be applied directly, or after a short compost.

Seed clover may be kept in good condition in barrels. These may be in expensive, and of a temporary character. The clover itself will go far toward supporting the upright tubers, which need not be set in the ground, but need only be well braced together. Fencing the barrels securely nailed will answer for barrels. The roof may be of boards lapped. The sides need be enclosed only halfway down from the roof. The boards can be knocked off before the hulling begins and of course are put on after the seed clover is put in the barrels. American Agriculturist.

THE NEW ENGLAND MAGAZINE for November opens with an article which must prove of rare interest to everybody who cares for architecture in America. It is an article on Charles Bulfinch, the architect, by Mr. Ashton Willard, whose recent writing on the old New England meeting-houses in this magazine has been so charming. The article in this number which will provoke most discussion is one by Rev. A. D. Mayo on "The Third Estate of the South," detailing the remarkable growth in the South of a new democracy, permeated by living ideas, and destined rapidly to become the controlling power. Edward Everett Hale contributes to this number a stirring article entitled "The Professor of America." The illustrated article, "Fifty Years of a Canadian University," will interest all who have been reading the various valuable articles on Canadian matters which the New England Magazine lately been giving. Mr. Edwin A. Start contributes a paper, illustrated, on old Newgate prison in Connecticut. Mr. W. Blackburn Harbottle writes brightly upon stage coaching in the Adirondacks, and the usual variety of stories and poetry completes what is a singularly interesting number of this Magazine.

THE NEW ENGLAND MAGAZINE for November opens with an article which must prove of rare interest to everybody who cares for architecture in America. It is an article on Charles Bulfinch, the architect, by Mr. Ashton Willard, whose recent writing on the old New England meeting-houses in this magazine has been so charming. The article in this number which will provoke most discussion is one by Rev. A. D. Mayo on "The Third Estate of the South," detailing the remarkable growth in the South of a new democracy, permeated by living ideas, and destined rapidly to become the controlling power. Edward Everett Hale contributes to this number a stirring article entitled "The Professor of America." The illustrated article, "Fifty Years of a Canadian University," will interest all who have been reading the various valuable articles on Canadian matters which the New England Magazine lately been giving. Mr. Edwin A. Start contributes a paper, illustrated, on old Newgate prison in Connecticut. Mr. W. Blackburn Harbottle writes brightly upon stage coaching in the Adirondacks, and the usual variety of stories and poetry completes what is a singularly interesting number of this Magazine.

Good Templar's Banquet.

At the close of a regular meeting of Fulton Lodge No. 434, I. O. G. T. U., which was held at their hall, Nov. 10, 1890, an interesting program was rendered by the members to their friends. A beautiful quilt was also sold at auction, after which came the crowning event of the evening namely the supper, during the serving of which, many excellent selections were rendered by the Bogue Orchestra, Mr. A. E. Krause as cornetist.
 At a late hour the 155 persons who had assembled at that place, reluctantly took their departure, expressing their desire for the continuation of the new rapid growth of the lodge and that another such event may follow.

To be always surprisingly good, and on special occasions to be even so much better, seems to be a characteristic of "The Youth's Companion." Its regular weekly issues are almost perfect, but the Souvenir Numbers, including the Double Christmas Numbers just received, are among the most attractive of the many Holiday publications.

There is nothing more annoying to a poor country editor, whose duty it is to see that all printing is without error and who perhaps has been somewhat careless in his proof reading when hurried by a dozen different attentions, than to find after his paper is issued, some little error that spoils the beauty of a whole article. This was true in the poem of G. C. Lathrop published last week. We add the corrected stanza, which written by the man we have all known so long will touch the hearts of his many friends who read it.

Then farewell dear Fulton, bright gem of the river, While daily I wander, as exile from thee; Some day, may I sleep in sweet Adams corner, Where those that I love have small slumbers with thee.

The Death of a Year.

The Business Men of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

John U. Y.

For several days our business men have been engaged, as opportunity permitted, in making the leading business men of Fulton and Oswego Falls that they could see, to meet at the Trustees' room in this village Tuesday evening, Dec. 10th, for a large number of business men of Fulton and Oswego Falls for the purpose of advancing the interests of these villages and promoting public improvement. At a quarter past eight last evening the Trustees' room was crowded with prominent business men, ready and anxious to do what they could reasonably to add to the prosperity of this community. The meeting was called to order by the election of H. E. Nichols as chairman and Arvin Rice secretary.

F. E. Bacon was then called upon to express his views on the advisability of such an organization, and responded in a pointed speech, showing that if we would keep in the rank and file of progressive towns it would be necessary for some combination of

and interest themselves in securing new industries, and cited the village of Watkins and others as examples of what citizens acting for public good had accomplished.

G. J. Emery when called upon said that "It was never too late to mend," that this public co-operation should have been commenced twenty years ago, but that it ought not to be delayed longer. He should endorse the movement heartily, Almon Bristol told the meeting how a large number of piano manufacturers at New York were suffering from labor strikes and had begun the movement to locate their business in small towns for the purpose of evading strikes. That a small town in Ohio had captured a piano manufacturer that has built up a large business, and that one of them is doing his work. That there is NO REASON WHY FULTON SHOULD NOT with a proper organization and little attention secure one of these big industries, as there are better facilities than there are in either of the other towns mentioned. F. A. Emery, D. C. More, Wm. Ross, S. F. Merry, Fred Bennett, editor of the Patriot, E. R. Redhead and several others briefly addressed the meeting and heartily endorsed the movement.

Dr. S. F. Merry in the closing remarks in a short speech that struck the nail on the head. In brief, he said that there was no good in organization without to give the matter thought, and work and not shrink from duties placed upon them. That there had been such organizations but they had failed. Later in the evening he said that he hoped that the meeting would be the body of men assembled he noticed that nearly all were business men who had come here and put their money in manufacturing and business in recent years without solicitation or aid on the part of the citizens, and that they were "left to join in a movement to bring a big industry to this village, while the citizens stayed away where they had always been. Therefore he had hope that this movement, representative as

BATTLE OF WATERLOO. A Visit to the Waterloo Battlefield. By Mrs. F. M. Gilbert. Twenty miles due south from Brussels, the capital city of Belgium, is located the ever memorable battle ground of Waterloo, where Napoleon, the Imperial Emperor, the victor of a hundred battles, met his final defeat. His antagonist, that immortal Wellington, said "he had never before fought as hard a battle, the won so great a victory" while it was termed by Napoleon "a concurrence of unexampled fatalities, a day not to be comprehended." Our visit was August 1st; the day one of the finest. In company with the old guide, Martin Pearson, son of a French veteran who was engaged in the three days' fighting, we ascended to the summit of the mound by 230 easy steps, where from this central location was pointed out the position of the troops and generals of both armies during the sanguinary contest, giving then, and in going over the field afterwards, many interesting incidents, which are here reproduced. The field of Waterloo is an open undulating plain, and when visited was covered with splendid crops of rye, wheat, barley, oats and clover, just the same, it is said, as it appeared on the day of the battle. The field is intersected by two high roads which branch off at Mont-Saint-Jean, the one on the right, leading to Nivelles and Binche, is planted with trees and straight as a line for miles; that on the left, lying in the center of both armies, leading to Genappe and Charleroi. A little in advance of the junction is a gently elevated ridge which formed a good military position, giving an advantage to the troops in the rear of the crest of the ridge, covered from the French artillery and observation. On the other hand, Bonaparte's position was said to be superior and presented the most ample means of sustaining any attack from whatever point he might wish to direct it. Both positions, it has been claimed, offered excellent fighting grounds, which a large army could not without disadvantage. Our guide had accompanied a number of American officers over the field and they remarked upon the resemblance to our own Gettysburg, with a slight difference in the latter being more undulating. Napoleon did not anticipate any very stubborn resistance at this point, yet his wonderful skill in marshaling troops had led his generals to place them in an admirable order of battle, consisting of thirteen distinct columns. With the aid of a glass we saw where Napoleon pitched his tent, some five miles distant. Close by, now occupied as a post-office, the Church of Wellington had his headquarters. The French army was made up of veterans—men whose whole life had been war under Napoleon, and whose battles equaled their years in number. French troops exclusively devoted to their leader and his cause, eager, enthusiastic and well equipped, and to be the first to bring brought into the field. But when in February of that year it was learned that Napoleon, accompanied by all his guards and military officers, had left the island of Elba and returned to Paris and had been joined by all the troops which had been sent to oppose him, the great powers of Europe met at Vienna and declared that his breaking faith with those who established this overture at Elba he destroyed the only title on which his political existence depended. They therefore denounced him as the enemy and disturber of the tranquility of Europe, and resolved upon uniting their combined forces against him. English gold, the real sinews of war, was freely offered, for exorbitant that year being no less than $110,000,000, a large amount for subsidies to Austria, Russia, Prussia, Hanover, Spain and many other countries who would furnish soldiers to defeat Napoleon. The French nation quickly responded to their leader's call and by June 18th an army of 125,000 men and 350 guns had gathered a short distance from Waterloo. Early in April the allied troops began to assemble in Belgium with headquarters at Brussels. It is said by Napoleon's masterly arrangements his army was assembled on the frontiers with astonishing secrecy; but two days before the battle his location was made known by the reflection of numerous fires in the direction of Beaumont. Napoleon left Paris June 12th and reached his army the next day, his presence raising their spirits to the highest degree of enthusiasm. On the 14th he said, "Soldiers! This day is the anniversary of Marengo and Friedland, which twice decided the fate of Europe. We have forced marches to make, battles to fight, dangers to encounter; but with firmness, victory will be ours. To every Frenchman who has a heart, the moment is now arrived to conquer or to die." With this spirit the battle was opened at 4 o'clock in the morning of the 18th of June by attacking the Prussian outposts in front of Charleroi, and by 11 o'clock the French were in possession of the place. Wellington, who was still in Brussels, was soon informed of the attack, and gave orders to the several divisions to march at 5 o'clock in the morning on Waterloo. In the evening, with many of his officers, the duke attended the celebration given by the duchess of Richmond. There was a brilliant company, and when at his height the company first retired, intelligence that Napoleon had crossed the Scheldt and had taken Charleroi. The excitement was intense and nothing but armed men could be trusted. The guests left laughing the night which had been so full of peril and danger, and the next day the battle was fought. The French army was defeated, and Napoleon was forced to flee. The battle of Waterloo was a decisive victory for the British and their allies, marking the end of Napoleon's rule in France.

On Monday evening will occur the third in the series of pleasant evening at Grace Chapel. Subject, Nelson's Negro War Stories and personal reminiscence, by Capt. O. J. Jennings. We trust that our subscribers will remit the amount of their subscriptions and not cause us to send them bills, thus saving us that expense—an important thing to a country editor. Don't forget the Young Men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms on Sunday afternoon. Special solo and quartet singing. Music good and a gospel call of a few minutes. All young men cordially invited and for young men only. There is no better time during the year for beginning a course of study in Williams & Rogers' Rochester business university than on the first Monday of January. So many additional pupils are expected at that time that new classes will be formed in all departments. The Rev. Jno. C. Breaker has accepted a call from Southington Conn. and will commence his pastoral duties at that place early in January. It is with regret that we shall say goodbye to so able and earnest a christian worker as Mr. Breaker and the good wishes of all his friends will follow him in his new field of work. A representative of Miss Tucker's dancing academy, Fulton, was in Cleveland, Thursday. She proposes to organize a school for dancing here, and with that object in view will at the Gethsemane House next Tuesday, Dec. 18th, where she will receive children at 4 p. m., and ladies and ladies at gentlemen at 8 p. m.—Lake-side Press. Morgan Van Buren, Chas. Hastings, Lovell Johnson and Carey Bowen have been drawn on the grand jury list from Volney; Wm. J. Summerville from Granby; A. P. Marziani and William Blakeman from Schroon. Among the petit jurors are found: Ira Campbell, J. C. O'Brien, Henry W. Owen from Volney; D. S. Baldwin and Thomas Sullivan from Granby; Michael Fawley, George Downey, Orville Jennings, Herbert Keller and Franklin Clark from Palermo. A more thoroughly pleased audience never dispersed from Conover's Opera House than that of last evening, which gathered to hear the Old New England comedy of "Uncle Hiram." The house was filled and the excellent orchestra furnished music that charmed the ears of all who heard it while the play itself was so full of pure old time humor that it could not fail to entertain. Altogether Manager Hardy is to be congratulated on his success of last evening.—Piquette Daily Call. The list of members of the next Legislature of New York, as made up by Clark Chokering, divides the Senate between 19 Republicans and 13 Democrats and the Assembly between 40 Republicans and 30 Democrats, giving the Democrats a majority of two in each body.

New or Better? At a recent election the following were made officers of the new Board of Trade: H. E. Nichols, Pres. A. B. Burt, Vice. F. R. Bacon, Corresponding Secy. Will Moore, Recording Secy. The officers have taken steps to perfect the organization and some letters of inquiry have been answered. This organization will soon be in a position to do effective work for the village, and it is not too much to say that the eyes of the whole community are resting upon these men, for they have the power to do so much good. They represent our best citizens, and as a village we stand or fall by their work. For if these men are not able to unite citizens and build up a city, who are? Their responsibilities are great, but under the scheme of organization they can call upon others members for work. They lead and must direct the campaign. A little time, energy and well directed work now will place us far ahead. There are numbers of manufacturers who will move their plants, and others who will commence new businesses during the next two years, and some of them can be brought here. Now, will you do it? This whole people will watch with eager eyes every effort you make and will bless you for your work. It is a critical period in our history, for within ten years the present mania for examining our county will be over, and the large drift of business floating hither and thither and being caught up by wide awake towns will be permanently established. The opportunity was never so good as now in this shifting period. Activity for the next two years will be worth ten times as much as it will be ten years later. Let us unite and forge ahead. We have all THE ELEMENTS OF GREATNESS with us. Where can be found a man who would make a better judge than G. E. Piper. Where a man who could handle a mammoth business or corporation better than F. E. Emerick. N. N. Stranahan has those qualities that produce good statesmen. We are surrounded by an intelligent body of agriculturists. Our business men are shrewd, wide awake and liberal. Our country in men and women all the elements of greatness, and all we want is a united effort of this community to push ahead and make this section great, for better material cannot be found anywhere. Citizens, what have you for an answer. Will you lead us? MARRIED. At Fulton, N. Y., Dec. 17, 1890, Thomas Robinson of Syracuse to Fannie E. Vandellinder of Fulton, by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker. At Fulton, N. Y., Dec. 18, 1890, Fred W. Tuttle of Millport, N. Y., to Annie L. O'Brien of Lyons, Iowa, by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker. The Hunter Army Company have put a telephone in their office. Over $1000 was netted Post Schenck G. A. R. and W. R. C. from their fair last week. The Good Templars gave a very enjoyable entertainment in their rooms in the Kenyon Block last evening. The people of Cleveland are very much exercised over the stoppage of the Bernards Bay glass works. Barber and Flaxington have put a telephone in their office. This company will have an office at Bristol, to receive orders for coal. Dr. Marsh's lecture at Grace Chapel last Monday night was well attended and those who were present speak in high praise of his treatment of the subject "The Bodily We Live in."

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Van Buren celebrated their golden wedding last week Tuesday night. A large number of friends and relatives were present and many letters were received from friends out of town. There will be services at the Universalist church Sunday morning, Dec. 23rd, at 10:30. Subject, "The bringing by Augustine the doctrine of Election in the Fourth Century and incorporated it into the theology of the Christian church." The Y. F. C. will hold their meeting at 8 p. m. All are cordially invited to both meetings. Seats free. At the Annual Convocation of Feltton Chapter, No. 167, R. A. M., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Daniel Pardee, H. P. AGRICULTURAL.

Passion as viewed by the sage of Corvillio.

Mr. Horton—I cannot imagine what reason you have for thinking that my views about farmers would interest your readers. Perhaps giving one's thoughts freely may not add new information to the subject, but it may be of some use in arousing dormant energies and combative thoughts in your other farmer readers. It is the rule, for the time being, to lament having devoted one's time to farming and to forebode many evils that must be visited upon us poor agriculturists. Now, I am an old sheep in the fold for I cannot join in the general lament; I do not view the farmer in the light of the poor down-trodden serf at the mercy of every other class in this great country of ours. I am and always have been an optimist and delight in looking at life on its bright side. So when the thought of the farmer, I can only think of him as a man of great endurance and capacity to grumble without the wisdom to correct his own condition. In this country there never has been a time when farmers did not have the power to do as they wished.

Do people swindle and cheat and then stop it. Are laws made against it? Stop that. Are we unjustly taxed? Stop that. If there is fault with laws and politics, we have only ourselves to blame—for we are the ones who have reared sons to go to the seats of government and make our laws. We go to the cities and buy manufacturers and create consumers for our produce—to build railroads and steamships to carry our surplus. If these same sons have turned around and made laws that discriminate against us and have changed us more than they ought for the manufacturer of goods and have robbed us of all profit in carrying our products to market—we are at fault for permitting it. Sitting here in my cozy home I have seen our own sons go out from the farm to become a law giver, a manufacturer, a director of great corporations that handle the traffic of the nation and in the various ways have been represented in the cities and dealt out to us laws, regulations, clothing and everything that we need to make home pleasant in such proportions as they saw fit, and during all the century we have submitted, doing only that of grumbling and occasionally making an abortive attempt to check their greed. We have built cities and given to the world the most magnificent of luxury and have been content to accept from their hands such morsels as they have thrown to us; their offerings of our own heart's blood, whose departure from home was only to take service with the conqueror GREGED. And while this familiar sight has almost forced us farmers into the position of being unable to help ourselves we have practically done nothing to help ourselves. If there is anyone on earth who should have luxuries it is not the farmer. Is not the man who works 10 hours a day to raise the food to sustain life in humanity at large—the one to have the best that earth affords? The farmer should have an equal proportion. Men are engaged in every conceivable occupation. The theory of life is that each should have equal enjoyment of life and of its good things. The farmer is the life sustainer, for without his labor there would be no food. To all who desire other pursuits the farmer should say—go work in whatever field you like, we will give you food, and in turn you must give us the benefits of your labor; but instead, they have gone out and added to the farmer, work for us—we will give what we please. There never has been a time when the farmer in this country has not been able to force any command he should give. There never has been a time when he could not make his own rate for carrying produce or place his own price on the crop he sold. If he has gone as a beggar and sought the use of money and beggaried his home to pay for that use—it has not been because he did not have the power to demand money at his own terms. Farmers have heaped the silver dollar upon them, they ought to have scattered it among themselves.

A Co-operative Farm.

S. A. Forster of Alabama, says: A colony of about twenty-five families from the north, for the most part farmers, have recently secured about 3,000 acres of choice farm land in California. They are now in the process of forming a co-operative farm. It is to be organized as a joint stock company, with a capital of $200,000, limited to 300 shares of $1,000 each. No person can purchase one or control more or less than one share of the capital stock. The labor is to be performed by themselves and their families at stipulated wages, the profit to be distributed as dividends. They propose to introduce manufactures as soon as practicable, as they possess a tract of valuable timber, as well as an inexhaustible supply of coal. This country is the only farming territory in any of the southern states in which there are no negroes.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

One Colorado county has 100 arborescent firs. New ones do not develop the form of the old ones.

NOTES IN THE WIDE WORLD SO GOOD.

I was afflicted with kidney disease, Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of which I had heard, was the only thing that gave me permanent relief. I have since recommended it to my friends and family. It is a most valuable remedy for all kidney ailments and they all agree that it is the best remedy for this disease. I have since recommended it to my friends and family. Lowell Mall: A Boston child, becoming impatient at his mother's delay in hearing the evening prayer, exclaimed: "O mamma, mamma, don't be so long!"

There is one of Lady Belvoir's stories of the early days of the late Queen Victoria. She is talking about the time when she was a girl, and she was talking about the time when she was a girl, and she was talking about the time when she was a girl.
